CZAR LOSES HALF MILLION MEN; HUNGARIAN INVASION STOPPED

DICK RUDOLPH TO PITCH FOR THE CHAMPIONS

It was estimated at Fenway Park this afternoon that a crowd of 25,000 would see the World's champion Braves open the National League season in a game with the Phillies this afternoon.

The weather was cool, but clear and sunny. The crowd began to arrive early, and it was an enthusiastic gathering, befitting the debut of the Braves in another campaign for the championship.

It appeared that Rudolph and Alexander would do the pitching today.

The major league baseball season of 1915 will open this afternoon with games in eight cities. Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Brooklyn are the only towns owning big league clubs that will not have games in their home parks. Since Brooklyn plays the Giants in New York, that is nearly as good as a home game for the Dodger "fans," so that only Pittsburgh and Cleveland will be among the slighted.

Barring the possibility of bad weather, today's games should provide some interesting baseball, particularly in Philadelphia, where the Athletics, American League Champions of 1914, clash with the Boston Red Sox, who are nominated as favorites to win this year.

There is some special point of note about every other game, however. Eddie Collins makes his bow with the Chicago White Sox in St. Louis against the Browns. Bill Donovan, a debutant manager, pilots the Yankees against Walter Johnson in Washington. The most spectacular player in the world, Ty Cobb, will help the Tigers in their effort to repel the invasion by Cleveland.

Sherwood Magee, acquired from the Phillies, will play for the first time with the World's Champion Braves here against his old club. Roger Bresnahan does a similar trick, making his bow as manager of the Cubs against the Cardinals, whom he once led.

Pres. Poincare Escapes German Air Raiders

By FRANKLIN P. MERRICK.

Personal Correspondent of the International News Service.

PARIS, April 14.—News of a bold German attempt to bombard Dunkirk from the air while President Poincare of France was visiting the French base hospital in that city was received here today.

Taube aeroplanes attached to the German squadron which bombarded Hazebrouck, Poperinghe and Cassel attempted to attack Dunkirk, but were driven back by fire from the high-angle guns. Projectiles were dropped on the outskirts of Dunkirk.

German air scouts had evidently reported that high officials of the French government were visiting the northern end of the battle line which resulted in a burst of aerial activity.

When President Poincare and War Minister Miller and began their journey home from Dunkirk, they were advised to leave at night to avoid air attacks, but they declared that they had enough confidence in the guns of the French and British to risk day travelling. They arrived from the front today.

Russians Admit Great Campaign Abandoned

(By International News Service.)

BERLIN, April 14.—(By Wireless)—The Overseas News Agency states that all Jews in the Baltic provinces of Russia have been transferred to Siberia for political reasons.

LONDON, April 14.—Russia, after suffering appalling losses in the attempted invasion of Hungary, may be compelled to abandon the tremendous campaign in the Carpathians, according to official advices received today from Petrograd.

Berlin today officially estimated the Rusian losses in the great Carpathian campaign, which has been waged since the fall of Phzemysl, as at least 500,000 men and officers.

The Russian wedge, moving southwest and south of Przemysl to the Carpathian passes, is now menaced on both flanks, according to today's Petrograd news. Immediately following their offensive against the Russian left wing, in the Stryj region, the Teuton allies have begun an advance in force eastward from the Dunajec River to stop the Russian right. It was a similar strategic move by the Austrian force five months ago that compelled the Russians to abandon their efforts to penetrate Hungary.

The situation is vastly different at this time, however. The Russians now have ten times the forces they had in the first campaign and their rear is no longer menaced by a strong garrison at Przemysl.

RUSSIANS SAY THEY MAY RENEW CAMPAIGN.

While it was admitted today in Petrograd that the main Russian objective might have to be deferred because of the strength of the Austro-German columns advancing from the Dunajec River, it was asserted at the Russian War Office that postponement of the main Hungarian advance would be only temporary. In some quarters the news that the Austro-German forces were taking the offensive on the Dunajec was welcomed.

BANK FORTIFIED.

Since the Russians retired after their first drive against Cracow the western bank of the Dunajec has been strongly fortified, making terrific losses inevitable if frontal attacks had to be directed against them.

According to word from Berlin today the recent anxiety there over the situation in the Carpathians was due in large measure to the absence of news rather than the Russian claims of success. This anxiety was relieved today, however, by the Vienna official announcement that the Russian offensive had been completely arrested.

German military experts attribute the early Russian successes in the Carpathians to the plan of the Austro-German commanders to let the Russians sacrifice themselves in capturing unimportant positions while the main strategic points were held to menace their flanks. In this connection they point out that Uszok Pass, the key to Hungary, has been held by the Austro-German forces, and every assault against it repulsed.

APPALLING LOSSES.

The official Overseas News Agency stated today in Berlin, dispatches say, that Russia's own figures showed "appalling losses" since the war began.

"There have been 71,608 casualties among the Russian officers," said the agency. "It is estimated that the minimum Russian losses in officers and men during the Carpathian battles were 500,000."

President Wilson to Throw First Ball

WILLARD TELLS OF EARLY TRAINING

By ED W. SMITH.

Well Known Fight Referee and Ring Expert.

Herewith is presented the second instalment of Jess Willard's story of his own life, "How I Won the Championship."

In the AMERICAN yesterday Willard told of his birthplace in Kansas and sketched the family history.

His story covers the Kansas Giant's private and ring life completely from his birth up to and including the now famous Havana battle.

HOW I WON THE TITLE—NO. 2.

As told by Jess Willard, heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

You can imagine that the farmer's boy around a little town like Emmett, Kansas, never got a great deal of encouragement in an athletic way.

The boyhood days of a farmer's son is usually pretty much full of drudgery, but our community was a little different because most of the farmers there were well-to-do and the boys had a little more time for recreation.

Early I attained a reputation for being something of a sprinter, though I was a mountain of flesh and bone and weighed when I was twenty-one years old little short of 280 pounds.

Of course I never trained a minute and never knew the slightest thing about training for any kind of an athletic contest, yet I could go out any time and turn off 100 yards in eleven seconds.

DOCTOR TELLS OF NIGHTMARE BY MR. CABOT

That Louis Cabot of Milton millionaire, whose $2,000,000 will is being contested by the younger of his two daughters, Mrs. L. Vernon Briggs, before Judge Hardy and a jury in the Norfolk County Superior Court, Dedham, once experienced a nightmare wherein he imagined himself shot through one of his legs, was the testimony offered at resumption today of the trial by Dr. Edmund C. Storer of Jaffrey, N. H., a physician, who was hastily summoned at the time to the Cabot's Summer home, Dublin, N. H.

Questioned by Attorney Charles F. Choate, Jr., counsel for the will, Dr. Storer stated that Mr. Cabot was suffering from a "muscular spasm." Witness described this "spasm" as being similar to a nightmare.

Dr. Storer, who was called as a witness for the defence, said:

MUSCULAR SPASM.

"On the night of September 30, 1907, I was called to the Cabot home in Dublin by telephone. I found Mr. Cabot suffering from a muscular spasm. This spasm is somewhat like a nightmare. It gave Mr. Cabot the impression that he had been shot through one of his legs. Mr. Cabot thought the bullet had come through the window. This spasm was due to some irritation. It might have been due to a previous fracture of his leg or thigh. I stayed with Mr. Cabot the rest of the night. While I was there he made no outcries of any kind."

Witness was then briefly cross-questioned by Attorney Whipple, chief counsel for the contestant.

Q.—You told Mr. Cabot that he had not been shot? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Was the window open? A.—I don't remember. Possibly not. It was late September.

Q.—You saw no bullet hole in the window? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Who called you to the house? A.—A maid, I think. I was told that Mr. Cabot had been shot in the leg or thigh.

Axel P. Diviga, a masseur, the first witness called today, testified to having attended and massaged Mr. Cabot at Brookline, Dublin and Northeast Harbor. He was usually paid $3 a day for his services, but at Northeast Harbor he received $5 a day part of the time.

SAYS HE LET CABOT WIN.

Witness testified that in additional to his professional duties he frequently played golf with Mr. Cabot. As a rule, he testified, he allowed Mr. Cabot to beat him, which victories, he said, visibly pleased his employer.

Q.—When you beat Mr. Cabot how many strokes would you beat him by? A.—Five or six.

Q.—How many strokes would you let him beat you by? A.—Oh, about one.

Q.—Did you always congratulate him when he won? A.—Yes. He seemed greatly pleased to win.

Q.—How would he feel when he didn't win? A.—Not so good.

Q.—Did any one ever suggest to you that you let him win? A.—No, sir.

Questioned about his professional duties the witness said he would massage Mr. Cabot's neck by holding his head between his hands and moving the head from side to side. He said he also massaged Cabot's knee and thigh.

BELGRADE UNDER BOMBARDMENT

By International News Service.

NISH, Servia, April 14.—Austrian artillery has again bombarded Belgrade, it is announced here. The bombardment was resumed on April 10, a gunboat in the Danube co-operating with the Austrian shore batteries. Several shells from the gunboat landed in the centre of Belgrade. One wounded two women and damaged a house.

SUBMARINES CUT BRITAIN'S WHEAT

By FREDERICK WERNER,
Personal Correspondent of the International News Service.

BERLIN, April 14.—More than one-third of England's grain importations has been cut off by the German submarine blockade, according to Admiralty officials today. They asserted that the "bread war" brought into operation through England's efforts to starve Germany had thus far been indicative of complete success.

Though it is admitted that some submarines have been lost these have been replaced by new craft of a more powerful type and the Admiralty officials profess complete confidence that their policy of destroying the British merchant navy will ultimately cut off England's food supply completely.

In this connection the Vossische Zeitung today publishes figures from the commercial supplement of the London Times showing that during the four months, April 1, 1915, only 1,894,000 bushels of wheat were received at Liverpool as compared with 3,280,000 during the same period in 1914.

"This shows the strong influence of the U-boat blockade," the Vossische Zeitung adds. This paper, with the others of Germany, fully approves the action of the Admiralty in the retaliatory action against British officers taken because of the treatment of captured German submarine crews in England.

ATHENS, April 14.—Semi-official denial is made of reports that the allies were making attempts to secure Greece's intervention in the war.

33,000 BRITISH WOMEN IN WAR SERVICE; PLEA BY SYLVIA PANKHURST

LONDON, April 14.—Runciman, president of the Boaord of Trade, today announces 33,000 British women have volunteered for special war service. They will work in factories so the men may go to the front.

Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, has made a plea they be given the same pay as men.

Six thousand women have volunteered to work in armament factories, Runciman announces; 4,000 in clothing factories, 1,700 in dairy work, 500 as gardeners, 2,000 in various branches of agricultural works, 11,000 as shop assistants, 500 as leather workers and 5,000 in clerical work.

AUSTRIANS SINK ITALIAN VESSEL

By BRIXTON D'ALLAIRE.
Personal Correspondent of International News Service.

ROME, April 14.—Tension between Austria and Italy was increased today by receipt of a dispatch from Milan announcing that the Italian ship Irene has been sunk by an Austrian destroyer in the Adriatic while carrying a cargo of food to the Montenegrins.

The Italian foreign office has ordered an investigation of the incident. If this determines that the sinking was unjustifiable a demand for reparation and an explanation will be made at Vienna. The Milan dispatch states that the Irene, a sailing vessel, was attacked and sunk at the mouth of the Boyana River, the navigable outlet of the Lake of Scutari. Her crew was rescued and landed on the Albanian coast.

Series B, No. 4 April 14, 1915
GOOD FOR 1 ONE VOTE

This coupon will not be counted unless presented at the California Exposition Contest Headquarters, No. 5 Winthrop square, Boston, or mailed to that address on or before 5 o'clock p. m. May 3, 1915.

HOW TO SEND VOTE COUPONS—At the end of each contest period, collect all votes of that particular series, then put all your "Series A No. 1" coupons together, tie or fasten them in some manner and attach a slip of paper showing the number of "Series A No. 1" coupons contained in that package. Do the same with "Series A No. 2" coupons, and the same with "Series A No. 3, 4, 5" and so on up to and including "Series A No. 15," the last one of that series. Then wrap them all in one bundle and write or stamp, on the outside of this bundle, your name and address and the number of consecutive sets said to be contained therein. A similar rule applies to the other six series.

GERMAN AIRSHIPS ATTACK BAILLEUL

By FRANKLIN P. MERRICK.
Personal Correspondent of the International News Service.

PARIS, April 14.—Zeppelin airships are now co-operating with the aeroplanes attacking the towns of Northern France. An official communique issued at the War Office today states that a Zeppelin has bombarded Bailleul, northwest of Lille, and only a short distance from the Flanders border.

It was probably the plan of the Zepelins' commander to destroy the British ammunition station at Bailleul, but this scheme is believed to have failed. Three civilians were killed by bombs dropped from the airships, but unofficial reports state no military damage was done.

During the recent operations French aviators have again demonstrated their superiority over their German rivals. The Communique announces the capture of two German aeroplanes, one at Braine, the other at Luneville, their pilots and observers being taken prisoners. A third was "winged" at Ornes, and fell before it could escape to the German lines.

According to the Communique, calm prevailed along the front yesterday.

The French also maintain an aviation station at Bailleul, which is an important concentration point.

The text of the Communique follows: "Calm was generally maintained along the front throughout the day of April 13.

A Zepeplin threw bombs on Bailleul, with our aviation grounds as its objective. This was not hit. Three civilians were killed. Two German aeroplanes were forced to descend to earth within our lines, one near Braine and the other near Luneville. The aviators were made prisoners.

"A third German machine was winged by the fire of our advanced posts near Ornes, north of Verdun, and fell 600 yards from our lines. One aviator was hit by a bullet."

Torpedo Tested for Czar at Putiloff

By International News Service

PETROGRAD, April 14.—Emperor Nicholas inspected the Putiloff shipyard Tuesday and watched the manufacture of ammunition for some time. A Whitehead torpedo was tested in the presence of the Czar. During the afternoon the Emperor was photographed with the employes of the yard by whom he was enthusiastically received.

WAR ON LIQUOR OVERSHADOWS ALL

By HERBERT TEMPLE.
Personal Correspondent of International News Service.

LONDON, April 14.—The "rum issue" attracted the largest crowd to the House of Commons today that has flowed into the galleries since the war began. Prohibition overshadowed even the war measures when Commons reassembled after a long recess and it was evident that both the pro and anti-prohibitionists were lined up for a hard fight. Three stands were taken upon the question: Those who demand absolute prohibition; those who ask modified prohibition, and those who desire government control of the liquor traffic, with a flexible policy.

Probably no session of Parliament since the opening of the war has been awaited with keener interest. Following the cabinet meeting meeting on Tuesday, when the drink question was fully considered, it was generally expected that Premier Asquith would make a detailed announcement in the Commons, setting forth definitely the course to be pursued by the government.

It was a foregone conclusion that restrictive measures would be announced probably providing for prohibition of the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors; reduction of the alcoholic strength of beer; shortening of the selling hours of public houses; closing of public houses near factories where war supplies are made, and compensation for interests adversely affected.

SEEKING SOURCE OF GERMAN NOTE

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Wilson today personally directed the preparation of the reply of this government to the note of the German ambassador attacking the neutrality of the United States.

One of the first things the President desires to learn is the source of the German memorandum. He has had nothing official thus far to show whether the note emanated from the Berlin Foreign Office, from the German Emperor's headquarters, or from Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, personally.

The reply, therefore, will depend to a large extent on this, as the President would not have to adopt the same tone in addressing a government or a throne as he would an individual. But it is understood the reply will uphold in vigorous fashion the course of the administration.

British Steamer Escapes 5 Bombs

By International News Service.

LONDON, April 14.—The British steamer Imber was attacked by a German aeroplane Tuesday while bound from Cork to Rotterdam, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam. When the steamer was near the North Hindoo lightship the aeroplane descended to only 800 feet above the ship. It dropped five bombs but all missed.

200 Arrests Made in Portuguese Plot

LISBON, April 14.—Two hundred arrests have been made by the Portuguese police within the last twenty-four hours as the result of a discovery of a revolutionary conspiracy. The government has ordered a domiciliary search in democratic quarters at Oporto and other provincial towns.

A large number of bombs was seized at Villareal. At Braga the police search resulted in a riot, in which one man was killed, several wounded and many arrested.

SUNDAY RAPS THE DEVIL AGAIN

PATERSON, N. J., April 14.—Billy Sunday was in good form at two meetings yesterday after his Monday rest and lashed "Old Nick" again with renewed fury at both services.

A call for "trail hitters" may be expected today, it is said, as a result of the continued enthusiasm of those who attend the tabernacle meetings.

Five thousand persons raised their hands last night when "Billy" asked how many were willing "to acknowledge publicly that they had sinned but repented and stepped again into communion with God.

More than 15,000 heard him preach during the afternoon and evening. The tabernacle was filled to capacity at the latter service. Several hundred were turned away.

That he is being assisted in his work of converting the people of Paterson and vicinity was demonstrated when Recorder James F. Carrol sentenced two women, "regular drunks" to one tabernacle service. They were arrested in a raid on a saloon late Sunday night, and when before the recorder he offered them a chance to go straight by taking a trip to the tabernacle and hear Billy.

"If I find that you did not attend," the recorder told them in passing sentence, "You'll get the limit the next time you are brought before me."

"LID LIFTER" EXPELLED.

Another incident of the signs of a "clean-up" was the action of Chief of Police John Bimson in sending out of town Charles Haas, a newspaper peddler, who was distributing the "Lid Lifter," a Philadelphia publication attacking the Philadelphia Billy Sunday committee. In it the committee is charged with misappropriating $23,000 campaign funds. Mr. Sunday is also charged with stealing some of Bob Ingersall's thunder in his sermons. Chief Bimson said that as a printed paragraph in the publication stated that it is a newspaper, its sale wasn't legal without a license which he would not grant.

Haas gave his address as 1113 Market street, Philadelphia.

That the I. W. W.'s have been falsely charged with an attempt to buck against Billy Sunday was the contention of A. L. Swartz, president of I. W. W. local 152.

He said:

"The I. W. W. has no fight with anybody's religion at all."

He denied that any arrangements had been made for an anti-Sunday meeting and said most emphatically that there is no such meeting in contemplation. There was a crowd of about 100 persons gathered about the doors of Institute Hall, the I. W. W. meeting place, tonight, but the doors were not opened, and there was no meeting.

CONDEMNS CHURCH ROWS.

Billy preached in his afternoon sermon on the subject, "Casting Out the Devil," and he attacked the present-day church, claiming that large number of ministers thought the only sign of success was a big crowd in their churches.

"Churc scraps" and prayer with lips and not with heart were condemned by the evangelist.

If there is anything the matter with you, ask God," he shouted to a rather unresponsive audience this afternoon. "If I'm not the kind the evangelist you happen to like and God is satisfied with my methods, why I don't give three whoops this side of hell for your opinion."

"There may be some pillars of the church here and yet they may be only "pillow shams," he laughed, and the audience laughed with him.

"Ask Jesus why," he said. "Ask him why you'd rather attend the card party or the theatre, where there is a girl without clothes enough to make the tail of a kite, than go to church or prayer meeting."

"Some people," said Sunday, "think the church is a clearing house for their high brow ideas."

During the evening service he furnished a lot of figures telling of the falling off of church members, during the past decade.

"There isn't a chance for you in the world, you old materialists," he shouted. "You've got your head in the wrong swill barrel."

He preached on the subject, "Work, the Secret of Success," and sailed into the people for their laziness.

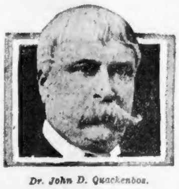
Genuine "Soul Power" the Secret of Billy Sunday's Successes; Has the Rare Faculty of Impressing Truth, Says Dr. Quackenbos

By Dr. John D. Quackenbos,

Noted Psychologist; Member of the London Society for Psychical Research; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine.



Dr. John D. Quackenbos.

BILLY SUNDAY is alone in his class. Excitement, furore, intensity and earnestness, attendant upon his preaching against sin, is psychic food upon which he thrives. Without it he would be at a loss for his existence.

The physical strain is tremendous, but, at the same time, not bound to break down the evangelist's health. I should say that he has many years to live—even under the trying conditions he has to face upon the platform.

Most impressive is the man's magnetism. He holds, sways and attracts his audience. This is soul power. At no time does he allow his audience to deviate from his compelling influence. He is spiritual, forceful and a strong factor for good in any community, despite his detractors.

My visit to Paterson yesterday was a revelation. Slang, coarse speech noticeably have made themselves at home in the drawing room, the pulpit, and even the professorial chair. Intellect itself is bursting through the restraints of propriety in speaking as well as manners and stooping to the level of the commonplace and even the profane.

The spiritual quality of Billy Sunday's sermon is self-evident. What he says is truth, and he has the rare faculty of bringing into adjustment with that truth the people who hear him. Nobody has a right to criticize this man.

I was so much impressed with the man that I cannot but wish that a "Billy" Sunday was preaching in every city in the country.

To be one's own natural self is the truest wisdom. There is no fine writing in Sunday's discourses, no conscious air, no diction mottled with terms borrowed from French newspapers, German novels, or obscured with unintelligible phraseology. He is the most fertile, original and versatile speaker I ever listened to.

And let no man dwell upon the vulgarity of his sermons—for vulgarity is missing. Sunday is a perfect master of English. He rounds out a sentence, drafts a simile, as well as any scholar.

As Mrs. Browning says, "If this man dies he will leave the world a dusk."

ENGLAND BIDS FOR BILLY SUNDAY

NEW YORK, April 14.—Billy Sunday is about to be called to be called to England to fight for prohibition.

Sir Henry Edward Randall, director of the Business Man's Campaign for Prohibition in England, asked an agent today to get for him Sunday's address, that a cable message might be sent to the evangelist to engage him for a revival tour of England for the purpose of battling against alcohol.

Sunday's success in this country, and the failure of King George, Lord Kitchener and Chancellor David Lloyd George to stop drinking among the workingmen, whose habits are a serious menace, because of the sluggardly manufacture of munitions of war, to the cause of the allies, have convinced the leaders of the movement in Great Britain that only through Sunday can the result they seek be achieved.

When a reporter in Paterson told the evangelist today of England's anxiety to engage him, Sunday, highly elated, discussed it with "Ma" Sunday. But when the reporter sought to learn whether Sunday woul accept, the evangelist merely smiled.

Later he explained that he could say nothing until he had received word directlyl from the persons who want him to conduct the English revival.

"We want Sunday over here just as quickly as we can get him," Sir Henry said. "We hope that he can make arrangements to wind up his campaign in New Jersey at a reasonably early date. Not until we learn whether he is so situated that he can accept will we be willing to go into the details of terms and the length of stay here."

Sir Henry's cable will probably Reach Sunday today.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

"Will I ever get over this?"

Is It "Just a Cold"?

Don't say: "It's just a cold." It may turn into rheumatism, or dropsy, or gout, or other serious sickness that comes from weak kidneys. Because, colds are due to congestion. Congestion makes the kidneys over-work to filter the blood. Colds often leave the kidneys weak. First, break the cold; then use Doan's Kidney Pills to avert the kidney dangers. For backache they are especially well recommended.

An Everett Man's Statement:

James W. Foote, carpenter, 120 Irving St., Everett, says: "My back began to ache and then the kidney action got irregular. I had to pass the kidney secretions during the night. For two or three days I was laid up in bed. I had heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and I got some. One box cured me and I haven't had a return of the trouble."

Let Bacons' Take the Responsibility of Supplying You With Spring Apparel & Home Furnishings

More people are realizing more and more every day that they can "do better at Bacons'." A careful investigation convinces us that more than 85% of the people of Greater Boston do more or less buying at Bacons'. There is a logical reason for this. It lies in the fact that Bacon quality is reliable and that Bacon prices are lower. Business is booming to beat the band and the store where business is good can always afford to quote lower prices. Think of us as the store that made good in a year in its new location after a record of almost a century of square dealing.

WEDDING DELAYS THE RAND TRIAL

The trial of Captain Walter I. Rand, diamond merchant and purveyor of "lucky stones," before Judge Aldrich and a jury in the United States District Court was interrupted today by the pending wedding of Miss Helen G. Casey, daughter of Attorney John H. Casey of No. 15 Wales street, Dorchester, counsel for the defence. The trial will be resumed tomorrow.

Miss Casey, a prominent and popular member of Dorchester's younger social set, is to be married at 6 o'clock this evening to Mathew Y. Crimmins, a wholesale fruit and produce dealer, with a place of business on Clinton street. The ceremony will be performed at St. Leo's Church by Rev. Fr. Cunningham, the pastor.

Webster Makes Gala Day of Esther Slater's Wedding

Whole Town Has Part in the Democratic Celebration

Governor Walsh and Boston Guests Provided with a Special Train.

War Veterans Furnish Guard of Honor, 1,000 Children Line theStreets.

Miss Esther Slater, Boston society girl bride, and B. Sumner Welles, the groom.

Miss Esther Slater, elder daughter of the famous textile family of Webster, was married in her home town today to B. Sumner Welles of New York, Harvard graduate and big game hunter, with the entire community of Slater mill operatives celebrating the bridal joyously.

The ceremony, which was performed at 10 o'clock in the little Episcopal Church of the Reconciliation in Webster, was attended by Governor Walsh and other guests from Boston, who made the 62-mile trip by special train.

With the Boston guests in the church were relatives and intimate friends of both families and many of the older Slater employes, such as foremen, overseers and office staff.

Fully 5,000 of the millhands and villagers generally clustered outside the church welcomed the bridal party arriving and departing; cheered the bride lustily and showed in every way their affection for her and her family.

VETERANS ESCORT BRIDE.

Many unusually pretty and appealing features marked the gala occasion. When the little retrocessional started from the altar rail out to the church door after the ceremony the bridal couple was preceded by fifty Civil War Veterans of Royal Lyon Post 61, G. A. R., who proudly performed the honor thus rendered them.

One thousand little boys and girls from St. Joseph's parochial school of Webster lined up along the road from the Slater residence to the church, waving American flags and cheering as the bride-elect and her younger sister, Miss Ray Slater, were whirled by in an automobile on the way to the church.

Showing even more clearly the thoroughly democratic and community nature of the day was the way the Webster folks crowded about the Slater residence at East Village right after breakfast, waiting for the bride-elect to appear.

GALA DAY FOR WEBSTER.

Pulaski's Brass Band stationed itself in front of the house and played lustily. The village people cheered and every once in a while the bride-elect would skip blithely out on the front piazza, wave her hand at the enthusiastic throng and cry cheerily: "Hello, folks!"

After the wedding the bridal party and guests from the city were hurried to Boston by special train for a formal reception at the Slater town house, No. 443 Beacon street, where there was a smart society crush and all that. But the wedding itself was essentially Webster's and the town made the most of it.

The wedding in the home town followed the Slater idea, carried out for daughters of this family, which has been the major one in the community ever since William Slater, founder of the Slater Cotton Mills, brought looms from England and became the pioneer cotton manufacturer of this country.

Today's bride completed her education abroad, has traveled around the world and has figured extensively in the society life of Boston since her debut at the Hotel Somerset in December, 1912, but she went back to the family home and the little Webster church for her bridal marriage.

FEAST FOR 3,000 MILL HANDS.

Mrs. Mabel Hunt Slater, the bride's mother, arranged a great wedding feast for 3,000 mill hands on the lawn of "The Knolls," the older Slater mansion, not the present residence, which was built by the founder of the mills. There a caterer from Boston set up a huge tent, where a mammoth wedding breakfast was served while the bridal party was speeding to Boston.

In every way Mrs. Slater and her daughters and sons had the Slater employes, who have helped build up the great family wealth, participate in today's festivities.

B. Sumner Welles, who won Miss Slater's hand, is the son of Benjamin Welles of New York city and Long Island. He became a chum at Harvard of Miss Slater's elder brother, H. Nelson Slater. The two young men went on a notable game hunt in Africa last Summer and captured alive the African lions which are now in the Franklin Park Zoo of Boston.

Mr. Welles and Miss Slater met at a dinner given by Winthrop Sargent of Commonwealth avenue, cousin of Mr. Welles. It was a love match. Mrs. Slater announced the engagement last New Year week. Of late Mr. Welles has made his home at No. 193 Commonwealth avenue.

The Slater family has been at the Webster residence, as it is called, to distinguish it from the old mansion, or "The Knolls," for several days.

Shortly before the wedding hour of ten o'clock, while village folks were waiting and cheering outside the house, Mrs. Slater left by automobile for the church, accompanied by George Barr of Bar Harbor, Me., who was to give the bride in marriage. Following closely in a second car came the bride and her sister. Mr. Welles and Nelson Slater, who was to serve as best man, had previously gone to the church.

5,000 CHEER BRIDE.

Five thousand townsfolks, gathered at the church, made a lane for the bridal cars, cheering vociferously. The bride smiled and bowed and waved her hands gaily.

The Boston and Webster guests had beeen seated. Governor Walsh was in the Slater pew.

Mr. Barr, with the bride on his army, preceded Mrs. Slater and the younger daughter up the aisle. They were met by Mr. Welles and the bride's brother. The Episcopal marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Endicott Peabody, D. D., of Groton School, where Mr. Welles had prepared for Harvard, assisted by Rev. S. Wolcott Linsley, recotr of the Webster Church.

The bride wore white satin, trimmed with Venetian point lace, with long train. On her head rested a diamond and emerald tiara, gift of the bridegroom.

BRIDE IN WHITE SATIN

The ushers were Prescott Walcott, Charles Curtis, Arnold Hunnewell, Ives Gannel, Rivington Pyle, Schuyler Parsons, Thornton Wilson and Herbert Cutting.

About 300 guests attended the reception which began at 1:30 in the town house on Beacon street in this city. The First Corps of Cadets Band played.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad aftereffects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The Little "Hydra" VACUUM CLEANER saves more Hard Work than any other Household Appliance

There is no question at all about this, Madam—and the LITTLE "HYDRA" (Vulcan Metals Company, Inc., Manufacturers, 148-156 West 23rd Street, New York), not only saves WORK, but insures wholesome, sanitary, pure-air HOME CONDITIONS.

No use talking! Doing work, over and over, daily—work that's never done—is disheartening. It's like the squirrel in the cage; to the endless round of carpet-sweeper, broom and dust-pan, mop, and dust-cloth—there's no end — you don't "get anywhere." But—

Suppose You Use a Hydra!

That's different. You can't begin to understand and appreciate the extraordinary dirt-extracting POWER and FORCE of the "HYDRA," without a practical demonstration. For instance—the automatic, continuous suction, created as soon as you turn the water faucet, will lift and sustain a FIFTY-POUND WEIGHT. No chance for dirt, dust, germs and insect eggs to remain IN your rugs, carpets, upholstering, curtains, bedding, etc.—when little "HYDRA" wants them to COME OUT.

You Can't Even Soil Your Hands With a "HYDRA!"

Nothing to do but just attach to faucet and hold the clean nickel hand-pipe. Nothing to oil; no filthy, germ-laden "dust-bag" to clean out (as with most other so-called vacuum-cleaners). In emptying from the "HYDRA" sanitary air-tight glass container, such of the collected dirt as does not pass off through tubing, into the sewer, you give one little "twist of the wrist"—that's all, it's done.

You See "HYDRA" Results—Not Breathe Them

Outside of the immense amount of work it saves—this is really the important thing. Science shows that innumerable diseases (including those of the most insidious and deadly character) exist and thrive in germ form, in street dust and dirt—such as is continuously being tracked into your house. Let the "HYDRA" fill its sanitary, air-tight glass container with what it will take out of your rugs, carpets, bedding, etc., then take a powerful microscope and see what you've got. You'll be glad you bought a "HYDRA."

ECONOMY OF USE! The purchase of a "HYDRA" is a really sensible application of "economy." It's built to stand all "wear and tear"—lasts forever—and costs practically nothing to operate.

$12.50 UNTIL MAY 1ST—Then $16.50. Come to the big "HYDRA" demonstration—all this week—and see the "HYDRA" work. Then make up your mind, quick, and save four dollars. You'll never be sorry you own a "HYDRA"—and the cleaning season is close at hand.

Meet for Catholic University Jubilee

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, Cardinal Farley of New York, Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and a large number of bishops and high dignitaries of the Catholic church arrived in Washington today to attend the silver jubilee celebration tomorrow of the founding of the Catholic University of America. The cardinals today attended the Spring meeting of the trustees of the university. Cardinal Gibbons presided, as he also did over a meeting later of the archbishops of the United States.

At the jubilee celebration tomorrow Cardinal O'Connell will deliver the opening discourse.

Hear Invalid Wife in Non-Support Case

Mrs. Rose Antico, a paralytic and an inmate of the Long Island Hospital, was brought to the South Boston Court today on a stretcher to testify against her husband, George Antico, charged with non-support. Judge Logan continued the hearing till Wednesday at the request of Antico, who is a tailor living at No. 4 Emmet street, South Boston. But the judge took the testimony of Mrs. Antico to save her another trip from the hospital.

CHELSEA GIRL IS BURNED TO DEATH

Four-year-old Florence Roche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Roche of No. 130 Prospect avenue, Chelsea, was fatally burned today in a fire in her home, where she had been left alone for a few minutes by her mother.

An unidentified man, hearing screams, ran into the house and found the kitchen in flames and the child lying on the floor, her clothing burned off. He carried her to a house nearby.

When Chief Hudson of the fire department arrived, he rushed the child in his automobile to the Frost Hospital, where she died an hour later. The police believe the fire was started by the child's playing with matches. The damage to the house was slight.

Harvard Law Staff Crippled by Illness

Courses at Harvard Law School are temporarily upset by illness among the teachers. Dean Ezra Thayer is down with grippe and is not expected back until May 1. His courses in "Evidence and Torts" are suspended for the present. Professor J. D. Brennan's lectures on "Bills and Notes and Partnership" have been discontinued for the same reason, also those conducted by C. F. Dutch in "Property and Admiralty Law." Professor Roscoe Pound has been called away, so his classes are interrupted in their work.

Craft from Boston in Bad Collision

NEW YORK, April 14.—The six-masted schooner Edward B. Winslow, one of the largest afloat, was brought into New York Harbor today in the tow of a tug, her bowsprit carried away and her bow stove in. The Winslow sailed from Boston April 9. She is a vessel of 2,482 tons net register and is owned by J. S. Winslow & Co. of Portland, Me. It is said the vessel was in a collision. She is 318 feet long, with 50-foot beam and was built in Bath, Me., in 1908.

Roxbury Boys' Club Dedication June 17

Councilor Walter Ballantyne, president of the Roxbury Boys' Club, announced today that the new $70,000 home of the club will be dedicated June 17. It was originally planned to dedicate the building April 19, but it will not be completed at that date.

Executives' Day at Show.

Executives' Day will be observed at the 1915 New England Business Efficiency Exposition, which is being held in Mechanics' Building.

HEARING FOR NEW B. & M. BILL

The Massachusetts Committee on Railroads, after consideration of the new draft of the Boston & Maine compromise bill, voted to hold a public hearing tomorrow morning. Although it is believed that the different factions are agreed on this bill, there is some disagreement among the members of the committee as to whether the Hampden road should be included and as to whether the public service commission should be given broader powers.

In New Hampshire some progress was made in the consideration of the relief legislation for the Boston & Maine, by the passage by the House of the Eastman bill providing for the incorporation of the New Hampshire railroads in event of the forfeiture by the B. & M. of its leases for lines in the Merrimac and Connecticut valleys.

The main bill—the fourth new draft of the Public Service Commission—Federal trustee bill—was presented to the House with a committee report of 14 to 1 against it. The bill was made a special order for today at 10 o'clock.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

If feverish, bilious, constipated, give fruit laxative at once.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, oMther! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. For sale by Riker-Jaynes and all good druggists.—Advertisement.

SAVINGS BANK LIFE INSURANCE URGED

Governor Walsh's inaugural recommendation to give publicity to the people of the State of the advantages of savings bank life insurance has accomplished its final stage in the Senate. Having passed the House of Representatives, the bill will immediately be sent to the Governor, who will sign it as soon as it reaches him.

Senator John F. Sheehan of Holyoke, the labor leader of the Senate, conducted the victorious fight against the opposition of Senators Andrew P. Doyle of New Bedford and Frank Bartlett of Pittsfield, both Republicans, Senator William A. L. Bazeley of Uxbridge and Ezra W. Clark of Plymouth joined in oratorical support of the bill.

Senator Sheehan declared that since the inauguration of savings bank life insurance the insurance corporations have been obliged to reduce their premium charges 20 per cent., have been obliged to eliminate the "unwholesome" provisions of their policies and have "undergone a general house cleaning." He said the change can be attributed only to the competition of savings bank life insurance, which he described as the "poor man's insurance, because it gives him the cheapest insurance at the lowest possible rates."

A FINE TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

EASY TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE

If you have catarrh don't be misled or gulled into believing you can obtain a cure for your trouble by breathing a simple medicated air.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease, and inhalers, sprays and nose douches merely temporize with the disease and seldom, if ever, bring any lasting benefit. To effect a cure use a remedy that will drive the disease out of your system. Don't employ a remedy that will drive the disease down into your lungs and bronchial tubes. Such methods often lead to consumption, and frequently produce catarrhal deafness and head noises.

If you have catarrh in any form go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parmint (Double Strength), take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the most miserable headache, dullness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal discharges, head noises and other loathsome symptoms that always accompany this disgusting disease.

Loss of smell, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrh and which may be overcome by the use of this simple treatment. Every person who has catarrh should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

HANDEL-HAYDN IN A NEW ORATORIO

By FREDERICK JOHNS.

The Handel and Haydn Society celebrated its one hundredth birthday last night in Symphony Hall with a fine performance of a new oratorio written for the occasion, "Morven of the Grail," music by Horatio Parker, verse by Brian Hooker, who was Mr. Parker's collaborator in the opera of "Mona," produced at the Metropolitan Opera House last season. Between the two halves of the oratorio there were speeches and felicitations.

The soloists were: Mrs. Caroline Hudson Alexander, soprano; Miss Florence Mulford, alto; Lambert Murphy, tenor, and Clarence Whitehill, bass.

Mr. Hooker's poetry is singable and rises in places to considerable lyric heights, but the story of "Morven and the Grail" as told by him is an incoherent jumble.

Parker showed his worth as a composer in "Hora Novissima." "Morven" lacks much of the inspiration so noticeable in the older work. It contains fine quartet passages and the orchestral part is invariably agreeable, but there is little melody offered to the soloists, only conventional dramatic recitative. And the choruses, while inspiring in spots, lacks the grandeur of classic oratorios. The soloists sang admirably the ungrateful music allotted them.

Mr. Parker was present and received an ovation. Tonight the society gives a miscellaneous concert and tomorrow night "Elijah" is the bill.

R. I. Senate Head Charges Passed Bill Was Stolen

PROVIDENCE, April 14.—Philip H. Wilbour, president of the State Senate, will charge today that Senate Bill 102, which passed last Wednesday, raising the real estate and property tax all over the State from nine to twelve cents a hundred, has been stolen.

He plans to hold the floor of the Senate and declares he will stop all official business of that body until he knows where the bill is.

After the passage of the bill by the Senate it was sent to the House, according to Senate officials. The bill should have been sent to the Finance Committee and since that time no trace has been found of the measure.

Gloucester Man Ends Life from Schooner

WILMINGTON, Del., April 14.—Jeremiah Daniels of Gloucester, Mass., a member of the crew of the mackerel schooner Norma, committed suicide at Delaware Breakwater by jumping overboard. He was insane.

Robinson Pays $50 for Dark Room Kiss

After remaining in jail four days to make up his mind in choosing between a $50 fine or two months imprisonment, Alexander Robinson, a Washington street photographer, decided to pay a fine which had been imposed because he had kissed Miss Ella Horrigan of Dorchester in the dark room of his studio on August 29. When first convicted he was given two months to raise the money, but was arrested on a default warrant on Friday.

$10,000 DIAMONDS LOST FROM TRAIN

A bag containing $10,000 worth of diamonds, the property of J. A. Spier, a diamond salesman of No. 65 Nassau street, New York, has been lost or stolen between the baggage room at the South Station and the Providence depot, according to a report made early today to the Providence police.

Spier all day yesterday visited the trade in Boston, and after completing his work went to the South Station, where he checked his baggage through to Providence. He then went to a Boston hotel and ate dinner.

A few hours later he took a train for Providence. When he arrived there he went to the baggage room and offered his check, which was numbered 734,883. He was informed that the bag had never reached Providence.

Railroad detectives and police inspectors were at once put on the case and efforts are being made to trace the lost property.

Council Will Give, 2 Union Men Who Lost Jobs Hearing

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Boston City Council, Councillors Watson and McDonald complained that three skilled employes of the Edison Electric Company had been discharged. It was explained that these men had worked for the company from two to four years and that they belonged to the unions in their respective callings. Non-union men were hired in their places.

Councillors Watson and McDonald asked that the discharged men be given a hearing by the Council and that the Council ask the Edison Company to explain its position and reinstate the men. Watson and McDonald pointed out that, when the City Council awarded the Edison Company the contract to light the street, provisions were made to protect union men against discrimination and that high officials in the company promised to live up to this agreement.

Watson and McDonald stated today they could prove the discharged men were more efficient than the non-union men hired to succeed them. The Council will give the discharged men a hearing.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Edwin Bliss of St. Louis, author of many moving picture scenarios, including "What Happened to Mary," as well as a number of short stories, died suddenly of heart disease in the Vanderbilt Hotel early today.

WALSH IMPRESSED BY THE NEWSBOYS

Governor Walsh devoted an hour out of a busy day yesterday to the newsboy leaders of Greater Boston.

Headed by the irrepressible Happy Rubinovitch, King of the Newsboys, twenty-five young captains of industry met the Governor in the Council Chamber and advocated to him the appointment as judge of the Juvenile Court of "Tom" Mulkern, twenty years a Boston newsboy, now a successful lawyer and all his life a confident and friend of the newies.

When the conference closed the Governor, in his youth a Clinton newsboy, said to them:

"Boys, I meet in this room, day after day, men of wealth, bankers, brokers, railroad owners and prominent attorneys, but they, with all their talents, have not advocated their causes better than you have today. I am impressed by what you have said and the manly, care-free but sincere way you have spoken. And do not forget, the Governor of this Commonwealth is your governor as well as the governor of the rich man's son. Come to me whenever you choose. I shall be glad to meet you individually or as a committee."

They talked the newsboys' business together. The boys were formerly the "retail" dealers on the streets. They were ambitous and were rewarded. Now, for the most part, they handle the papers for the big metropolitan dailies.

"When I was a boy I used to buy the papers at the newspaper offices," said the Governor.

They told him that business has progressed. The big dailies now distribute the papers on the streets to the boys.

"How about the stations?" asked the Governor. "If I went down to the Park street subway could I start right in selling there?"

They told him he could. "Competition is open," they said. "You have to stand the gaff of competition."

"How many papers does a boy sell a day?" he asked.

Some said from 2,000 to 3,000.

Happy, who aids in circulating the AMERICAN, said: "I have a boy who sells 13,000 a day."

They told him that "Tom" Mulkern was the first judge of the Newsboys' Court. His popularity and his sound judgment caused his election, they said. The Governor was interested. They told him that the judge settled all newspaper controversies for the boys and all local quarrels. If they refused to abide by the judge's decision the case went to the judge of the Juvenile Court. "Happy" was grieved, he said, that the newsboy judge had only recommendatory and not a power to impose penalties.

When Governor Walsh had paid his tribute to them Nathan Sorenson said: "Governor, you gave us courage to come. If you were a governor who didn't know our struggles and our trials and our life, perhaps we wouldn't be here."

The vacancy in the judgeship of the Juvenile Court was caused by the death of Judge Harvey H. Baker. Governor Walsh has the appointment under consideration.

Compels All Impurities To Abandon System

Blood Troubles Can not Remain If Properly Treated.

There is in S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, a property that absolutely compels harmful influences to disintegrate and lose their identity. No matter what they are called nor how destructive they are there is in S. S. S. a powerful, searching counter influence to annihilate the most eruptive germ, causes the mucous linings to convert it into an inert substance that is quickly thrown out of the blood and out of the body by the skin, lungs, kidneys, bowels, and destroyed in the liver. There is not a single advance in medicine today that in any sense is an improvement over S. S. S. Surgery is a wonderful, masterful science, but when it comes to purifying the blood S. S. S. stands alone. Thousands of doctors have prescribed it. But fair-minded doctors long ago realized that in the vegetable nature of S. S. S. were certain ingredients that to the blood in sickness were just as essential as the flesh-building elements of the grains, meats, fats and sugars of our daily food. The average doctor is humane and of trained intelligence. He has seen the recoveries from worst cases of blood trouble by the use of S. S. S. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist. SUFFRAGISTS TO EDIT AMERICAN

Extra! Extra!

All about woman suffrage!

Special edition, one cent!

These cries will resound through the streets of Boston and every city and town in New England next Saturday—APRIL 17.

The special edition is the big campaign number which the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association is to issue in conjunction with the Boston AMERICAN on that day.

Just as fast as the Suffrage Edition leaves the presses and are shipped away by thousands they will be snapped up in the whirlpool of demand generated by weeks of expectancy.

And little wonder! Even the most indifferent youngster is interested to see what kind of a daily paper the women will "get out," to use the vernacular.

The Suffrage Edition will bristle with entertaining and instructive features. It will be a magazine of good things—things up-to-date readers cannot afford to miss. If you have been anxious to study woman suffrage, and, in a short time, to learn what it is all about, buy next Saturday's Suffrage Edition of the AMERICAN.

If you want to have suffrage condensed and to hear the woman's side of the argument you cannot afford to miss this opportunity that can be procured for a penny—the regular price of the AMERICAN. You will be given the chance to see what women writers can do, what women debaters have to say, how women poets can sing, how women artists can cartoon, and how women editors and news gatherers can fill their jobs.

Not only that but you will be given the opportunity next Saturday—APRIL 17—of seeing also how the women—professional and society women—can sell papers. You will see them in the role of "newsies" all over New England, because every woman suffrage organization has taken hold of the Suffrage Edition idea with enthusiasm.

Nor is that surprising either, for next Saturday's Campaign Edition will go as a medium of argument to regular readers of the Boston AMERICAN, to say nothing of the thousands of new readers that will be anxious to see what the women have to say in the special edition WRITTEN BY WOMEN, EDITED BY WOMEN AND TO BE SOLD BY WOMEN.

NOW FOR THE BIG CAMPAIGN.

And as you wait for the Suffrage Extra to flutter from the presses and when you buy one, don't forget that the number will carry all the regular features of the Saturday AMERICAN.

The members of the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association have a big fight on their hands. They face the task of reaching the ear of every intelligent voter in Massachusetts. The Legislature has agreed to place their plea of equal suffrage in referendum before the male voters next Fall, on the issue whether the word "male" shall be stricken from the constitution so that women henceforth in this State shall have equal rights and opportunities with the men and be given the same privileges to vote for candidates for all public offices.

That accounts for the avalanche of literature that must be distributed and for the widespread stumping to enlighten indifferent or prejudiced voters. The woman suffrage host must quicken the reasoning power of the voters. They have launched a campaign of education. They realize that next Fall will mean everything to their cause. They have the ball, so to speak, within striking distance of the goal. A sufficient punt at the polls and Massachusetts will take her place in the column of enlightened States where women will be placed on the same level as men.

Next Saturday's Suffrage Edition will be produced under the auspices of the following named:

THE WOMEN IN CHARGE.

The Suffrage Edition will be issued under the auspices of the following named:

Lewis Doubts If President Wilson Wants Re-election

NEW YORK, April 14.—"I make bold to say that President Wilson has never had in mind the selfish object of taking a reward for the execution of promises to the people, by seeking re-nomination as a compensation for or asking for a re-election as a return for the discharge of his obligation to his party and his duty to country," declared Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois in speaking before the National Democratic Club.

"I dare say that if he can have all the policies, to which he is pledged to the people, executed into laws and could then be left to his free will, he not only would not be a candidate for re-election, but in justice to the sacred grief which has afflicted him and the sweet and tender obligations which still rest upon him, would abandon public office for the private refuge of home, family and friends."

Walsh Attends Play at Hunnewell Club

Governor Walsh attended the Hunnewell Club play, "For One Night Only," at Newton, as the guest of Leverett D. G. Bentley. The Governor was the guest also at dinner given by Hon. Alanzo R. Weed, chairman of the Gas and Electric Light Commission.

The Governor congratulated those who have parts in the play. He also expressed his appreciation to the audience in a brief speech.

Panama Exposition Praised by Crane

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Ex-Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, who was entertained at luncheon by President Moore and the directors of the Panama Pacific International Exposition says:

"The Exposition is far beyond my expectations. I hope that every one who can do so will make the trip to see it."

METHODISTS TALK OF CONSOLIDATING

New England Methodists attended in large numbers the opening service today in People's Temple of the 119th annual session of the New England Conference.

Bishop William A. Quayle presided. The conference sermon was delivered by the Rev. R. A. Colpitts. A memorial service was held, followed by the Deaconess Anniversary with an address by the Rev. D. W. Howell, and the consecration service conducted by Bishop Quayle.

The Rev. Edgar Blake, D. D., will speak before the anniversary meeting of the Sunday schools and brotherhood this evening.

During the conference the matter of consolidating the New England Conference with the Southern will be agitated. In the former are 255 members and in the latter 175 members. The Southern Conference has been independent for more than seventy-five years.

2,000 Parishioners Greet Mgr. Splaine at Roxbury Hall

Some 2,000 members of St. Joseph's parish, Roxbury, several priests of the diocese and many of the laity of other parishes attended the reception to the Rt. Rev. Mgr. M. J. Splaine, recently appointed by Cardinal O'Connell to be permanent pastor of St. Joseph's parish.

The reception was held in Hibernian Hall, Roxbury, and included addresses, musical entertainment and whist.

Mgr. Splaine personally greeted all present and made an address. Denis J. Sheehan, chairman of the general committee, presided at the exercises.

Horses Run Wild in Brighton Streets, Roundup by Police

Twenty-five horses penned in an enclosure in the rear of a Brighton sales stable were released in some unknown manner and ran wild throughout the district for several hours, before they were finally rounded up by a squad of police and civilians under the direction of Sergeant Frank M. Harrington. The horses recently arrived from the West and were to be taken to England.

Brookline Peace Meetings Opened

Many persons attended a peace rally in the Brookline Baptist Church, the forerunner of a general peace movement among the churches of Brookline. The Rev. Dr. O. P. Gifford, the pastor, presided. The principal speaker was Dr. Jay William Hudson of the Massachusetts Peace Society, whose subject was "Christianity's Place in the New World-Order-America's Message to Europe."

Boston Praised at Credit Men's Dinner

Praise was bestowed on Boston—on the city's integrity, its learning and tradition, its ability to "play the game" and its leadership — in the speeches of the Boston Credit Men's Association at the Copley-Plaza. Charles E. Meek of New York, president of the National Association, ex-president F. R. Salisbury of Minneapolis and Curtis H. Burnett of Newark were among the speakers.

C. L. U. Protests Military Bill

The executive board of the Boston Central Labor Union has voted to protest against the passage of House Bill 1852, which calls for compulsory military education of males between sixteen and twenty-one.

A Daughter of New York.

Ottie Cutter says: "It's not that you swell fellers ain't square. Sure I'd trust you. It's—well, there's a difference. With fellers like you, I ain't got no prospects, and if I went, it might spoil the rest. D'ye get my thought?" You will notice how Ottie of the telegraph counter never for a moment loses sight of the destiny which a level-headed estimate of what she may expect from life holds out to her when you meet her in Cosmopolitan, America's greatest magazine.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN FOR INDIGESTION—IT'S FINE!

In Five Minutes! No Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sourness, Gases, Heartburn or Stomach Misery—Stops Acidity and Food Fermentation—A Pleasant, Quick, Sure Stomach Relief.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you must not injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store, and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach, all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

"Mr. Collins—You surprised me with the Most Wonderful Bargains in Fine Pianos That I Ever Saw."

Says Mrs. Blank

YOU KNOW who Mrs. Blank is. She is the woman who had been reading my piano advertisements in the American for a long time and who had been rather skeptical about the wonderful bargains I promised. She admitted that she had been prejudiced by the over-zealous representatives of my numerous competitors, but, after weighing their statements and mine, she came to the perfectly logical conclusion that "there would be no harm in investigating my piano sales. That it would cost nothing to do so and that calling here and examining the pianos offered for sale would not obligate her to purchase at my place."

Well—Mrs. Blank called—investigated—and bought. And volunteered the above endorsement of my piano selling methods, saying that I did give the most-wonderful bargains, etc., etc.

And my dear friends, there are many Mrs. Blanks who tell me that same story and who finally come here, buy a fine piano and save lots of money and go away convinced and happy. Is your name Mrs. Blank?

BEST TIME TO GAIN NEW FLESH

Those Who Are Thin and Pale Should Take Father John's Medicine Now.

Experts agree that this is the best season of the year to build up the strength and weight that has been lost during the winter. Father John's Medicine is best for this purpose because it is made of pure and wholesome food elements which strengthen and build up those who are weak and run down. No alcohol or dangerous drugs.—Advertisement.

SAVES TWO BOYS WHO GO OVER DAM

Guy Simarillri, eleven, and his brother, Vincent, four, sons of Peter Simarillri, of No. 21 Pleasant street, Watertown, were rescued from drowning by Matthew Murphy, forty-two, of No. 36 California street, Newton, when a flat bottom boat in which they were paddling went over Galen street dam in the Charles River Watertown.

They were playing about the river when they espied a flat-bottomed boat. Two medium-sized boards were found and then a rope holding the boat to the shore was loosened. Both boys bent their childish energies to paddling the boat.

When the boat reached the middle of the stream the current took the direction of the boat in charge and turned its nose toward the Galen street dam, fifty feet away. The boys, quick to realize their plight, worked strenuously to turn the boat toward the shore. Guy shouted for help as he saw the boat moving toward the dam. Murphy overheard the outcries of the boys. He ran to the base of the dam.

When the boat came over the dam he dove into the water and pulled the young lads out as they came to the surface.

CHILDREN MUST SUPPORT PARENTS

Under a drastic law passed by the Legislature and signed today by Governor Walsh, the failure of any son or daughter to provide for the support of their parents is made a criminal offence.

The bill provides:

> Any person, above the age of twenty-one years, who, being possessed of sufficient means, unreasonably neglects or refuses to provide for the support or maintenance of his parent, whether father or mother, when such parent through misfortune and without fault of his own is destitute of means of sustenance, and unable by reason of old age, infirmity or illness to support and maintain himself or herself, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $200 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Exception is made for the child, who, during minority, was not reasonably supported by the parents, and for the child, who, being one of two or more children, has made reasonable contributions to the care of the parents. Power is allowed for the court to direct the guilty son to care for the parents in such terms as the court may impose.

Another bill signed by the Governor allows the issuance of search warrants for places suspected of having cocaine, opium and other habit-forming drugs upon the premises.

The Success of This Piano Sale Is the Talk of New England

Even Piano men that have been in the Piano business all their lives marvel at the way we're selling Pianos today, but we are not surprised—there is really nothing to wonder at in the marvelous response we're getting we're doing the most unusual thing ever attempted by any store as far as we know.

Because—

ONE of the oldest and Best Known Piano factories in New England was about to close—the maker realized that people were holding off buying pianos because they had been hearing so much about the "hard times" that never came.

He wanted to keep his big factory open and keep his employes working. He told his troubles to US.

We Knew People Would Buy Pianos Now if They Could Get Them for Less Than They Had Ever Been Offered Before and at the Easiest Terms Ever Known in the Piano Business, Under a Guarantee That Meant Something.

After the 1st payment

Pay Only $1.25 A WEEK

Read This Guarantee

In our opinion it is the strongest guarantee ever made by any house.

No "ifs" or "ands" about it. No loopholes. Just a straightforward business agreement to "make good."

The R. H. White Co.

GUARANTEE

The R. H. White Co. jointly with the makers guarantee against any defects in material or workmanship.

If any such defects appear they will be repaired free of charge or a new piano of like value given you without cost.

Let's See What You Get

Because a big New England manufacturer agreed to sell us Pianos at Actual Cost rather than close his factory and throw his employes out of work.

You Can Buy New Pianos Worth $350 for $229.75 Each

A saving of $120.25 for you.

You can pay for them at the rate of $1.25 a week after the first payment, which is the most liberal terms ever offered in the piano business.

You buy them with the broadest guarantee possible to give.

Is it any wonder we're selling more pianos and player-pianos today than were ever sold in one day by any other New England piano store?

There are going to be more piano customers than we have pianos. So don't wait a minute if you have a piano-buying thought.

And There Are—

50 Player-Pianos Worth $550 Each for Only $397.50 Each.

They're naturally going faster than the pianos, for aside from the phenomenal little price you can pay at the rate of $2.50 a week after the first payment.

MISS HATTIE KAUFMAN, whose fiance, Dr. Maxmilian Jakoby, died from pneumonia contracted while aiding strikers at Roosevelt, N. J.

STRIKERS' DOCTOR DIES A MARTYR

Miss Hattie Kaufman, of Elizabeth, N. J., whose fiance, Dr. Maximilian Jakoby, of Roosevelt, N. J., the physician who cared for the wounded strikers, who were shot down by "deputy sheriffs" at Roosevelt, last January, was carried off by death, Saturday almost on the eve of their wedding, is the principal beneficiary under the doctor's will, it was learned today.

Dr. Jakoby announced their engagement only a month ago. He first became intimately acquainted with Miss Kaufman, who is well known in social work in New Jersey, during his efforts to relieve the striking chemical workers.

When the deputy sheriffs fired volley after volley into the ranks of the unarmed strikers, a short distance from Dr. Jacoby's office, he was the first to go to their assistance. In the swamps, where the wounded strikers fell, he administered first aid. He had more than a dozen carried to his office, where he worked over them until they were in condition to be removed to the hospital in Elizabeth. Those who remained in Roosevelt he treated free of charge.

Miss Kaufman, in her work to better the condition of the Jersey mill hands, was greatly impressed by the work of Dr. Jacoby. They had planned to do social work in Roosevelt, among the poorer workers after their marriage. Last week Dr. Jakoby burned a finger using the X-Ray. Pneumonia set in, and the combination proved too strong for the doctor's resistance.

The social welfare plans mapped out by the doctor and his fiancee will be carried out by Miss Kaufman, according to the wishes of the doctor in his will. Although the estate is not large, much is expected to be accomplished by his plans.

Prominent at the funeral services were delegations of strikers to whom Dr. Jakoby's death is almost as severe a blow as to Miss Kaufman.

HUERTA DRIVEN OUT OF SPAIN

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The real reason why Victoriano Huerta, former Mexican dictator, came to the United States from Spain was revealed today. He was seeking a refuge. While he may take part in schemes relative to Mexico, that was not his aim in coming here, government officials have learned.

Publication of lists of crimes committed against Spaniards during Huerta's regime in Mexico aroused public anger in Spain to such an extent that the Madrid government practically expelled him. This was done ostensibly to appease the wrath of Spanish people, but in reality to save Huerta's life, as he was in danger of mob violence.

As soon as Huerta reached Spain the Spanish newspapers began denouncing him, declaring that directly after the death of Madero, Huerta demanded $20,000,000 from a list of Mexican banks. He finally obtained $25,000,000, and this he deposited in banks in Spain against the hour when he must flee. Then they published the names of fifteen Spanish citizens alleged to have been murdered by Huerta. Many other crimes and the confiscation of Spanish property were described.

All called upon the government to expel the unwelcome guest. Mobs assembled around Huerta's residence and the government privately informed him that he must leave immediately. A "guard of honor" placed at his door was really a cordon of mounted police to protect him.

Officers of the government not only escorted Huerta to the pier and saw him on board the Antonio Lopez, but two destroyers accompanied the vessel to sea.

Refuses Warrant for Truck Driver

Judge Hayden, in the Roxbury Court today, declined to issue a warrant for manslaughter against Charles W. Rogers of Verchild street, Quincy, whose motor truck killed Joseph Dinan, fourteen, of No. 58 Clapp street, Roxbury. The judge decided Rogers was blameless, the evidence showing that young Dinan fell under the wheels when he attempted to climb upon the truck.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat also take glass of Salts before eating breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which every-one should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

JAMES J. MYERS, EX-SPEAKER, DIES

James Jefferson Myers, former speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, is dead at the Vassal House, Hawthorne and Brattle streets, Cambridge. He was seventy-two.

He was first elected to the House in 1892 and served continuously to 1903, being speaker for the last four years of his service. He first attracted attention by opposing the proposal to send 116 persons to the world's fair in Chicago at the public expense. He forced a compromise on fifty persons.

Injured Rockport Man at Lynn Hospital

A man, who has only been able to say that he is Arthur L. Tuttle of No. 23 King street, Rockport, is at the Lynn Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain received in some unknown manner. He was found unconscious on a train which arrived at the Lynn depot from Boston. The conductor says that he boarded the train at the North station and had a ticket for Rockport.

Praise Beyond Belief

FOR

D. W. GRIFFITH'S MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE

"The Birth of a Nation"

Agreeing with the greatest New York critics, among them Alan Dale and Metcalfe, that no drama on the American speaking stage in our history has ever swayed an audience as did this motion picture.

The Boston Globe says:

"As a work of art it is so wonderful and so beautiful and so full of life that it robs one of the power of criticism. It is a great work, first, last and all the time, and it stamps Mr. Griffith as a master artist in whom the power of visual interpretation reaches a height that cannot easily be comprehended at one sitting. In such a man there must be the imagination of the poet, the creative power of the artist, and with these the genius of the architect, the dramatist, and the modern stage manager, who understands all the subtleties of stage effects in their relations to human emotions. You are lost in amazement at the acting of these hundreds and hundreds of people in this drama."

The Evening Transcript says:

"Motion-pictures on a new scale of magnitude and variety. The surrender of Lee at Appomattox, the assassination of Lincoln, Sherman's march to the sea, the burning of Atlanta, move upon the screen as they never moved in print. Where other pictures have shown riders in this costume or that, Mr. Griffith has given us the ghostly impression of the white clad Ku Klux—now riding fast on the hilltops against the red morning, and now in the dawn's silver valley where the still rivers splash at their horses' tread."

The Boston American says:

"'The Birth of a Nation' is a wonderful historical drama and an enthralling human story. I cannot describe this picture in a half column, or a column; a page would not do it justice. It is impossible to keep from bursting into admiration at the way in which the author has woven the great incidents of the war into his play. He is an amazing impressionist, his scenes flash the story at you with never a rest. You sit overpowered by the beauty and the magnitude of the pictures. You see a whole battlefield covered by thousands of men. . . ."

(The comments from the other Boston critics will be printed later)

'LOTTA' PROTESTS ANTI TOXIN TESTS

Lotta Crabtree has written an open letter to Mayor Curley and the City Council protesting against a proposed appropriation of $20,000 for experiments in seeking an anti-toxin for measles and scarlet fever. She says:

To His Honor The Mayor:

I note in the press that an appropriation is recommended by you which shall make the City of Boston allow $20,000 to Dr. Mallory of the City Hospital for "experimentation on chimpanzees," in seeking an anti-toxin for measles and scarlet fever, "the smaller animals having failed to respond to inoculation."

As one of the largest tax-payers of Boston, I protest not only with all my heart, but with all my mind (informed as it is on this matter through earnest investigation), against this use of the people's money.

It is no more popular to state a disbelief in serums today, than it was a little while ago to declare the earth to be round instead of flat, but there are, fortunately for the world, thousands of men eminent in their profession who have openly denounced both serums and the methods of obtaining them as useless, and if useless, then barbarous and criminal to both man and beast.

Scarlet fever and measles, according to statistics, are showing a steady yearly decrease, in spite of the fact that the thousands of "smaller animals tortured in the experiments, have "failed to respond to inoculation," while many of those diseases for which anti-toxins have been "discovered" and are being so industriously supplied to the trade are steadily increasing each year, according also to recognized statistics.

But my point is not to discuss the rights and wrongs of vivisection, though I believe with Dr. Henry J. Bigelow, emeritus professor of surgery of Harvard, when he says: "There will come a time when the world will look back to modern vivisection in the name of science as they now do to burning at the stake in the name of religion."

My point is to state that any good that might be done is achieved at too great a cost to man's character and of suffering to God's lesser creatures. Sentiment aside, I protest as a taxpayer against one penny of money going into this most unworthy and unbusiness-like proposition.

LOTTA M. CRABTREE.

Wilson Asks Lincoln Date Be Observed

President Wilson has signed an executive order, providing that fitting observance be given to the fiftieth anniversary tomorrow of the death of Abraham Lincoln. Governor Walsh is expected to make a similar proclamation today. Mayor Curley has ordered flags on city buildings half staffed. President Wilson's order reads:

As evidence of the profound affection of the American people for the memory of Abraham Lincoln, it is hereby ordered that the executive offices of the United States shall be closed and that the national flag be displayed at half-mast upon all federal buildings and at all forts and military posts and naval stations, and on all vessels of the United States, and that the representatives of the United States in foreign countries shall, in like manner, pay appropriate tribute to his memory, on Thursday, April 15, the fiftieth anniversary of his death.

The owners and masters of all merchant ships of the United States are requested similarly to display the national flag at half-mast.

Baby Hygiene Body Needs $30,000 for Saving of Infants

To care for 4,097 babies in this city cost the sum of $24,000 last year. This was done by the Boston Milk and Baby Hygiene Association, which needs $30,000 for the coming year.

This association wants to take care of 7,000 babies during the next twelve months. The lives of these babies can be saved, if the charitably disposed will answer the call.

There are twelve stations of this association in this city, with fourteen nurses. These nurses have made 50,275 visits to the homes of mothers and told them how to take care of their infants so that infant mortality is declining in Boston.

NEW ATROCITIES BY THE MEXICANS

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Affidavits telling of the desecration of the American flag, of loss of American lives and injury of Americans in Mexico was shown to the International News Service by George A. Hughes, representing the international committee of Mexico City. This committee has made a plea to the American public for relief from the outrages to which all foreigners in Mexico have been subjected. Washington has been silent to their appeal.

Edward Hoeflich, an American citizen, makes one of the affidavits. In parts he swears:

> An armed force of Zapatistas entered my house on the pretext of looking for hidden arms. They fired several shots at Mrs. Clara de Marsical, her daughter, and servants who live with me.

Ernesto A. Hegewisch, an American citizen, swears:

> My home was forcibly entered by Zapatistas on the night of March 10 while flying a large American flag. The house was shot into and looted, the Zapatistas stealing and wantonly destroying property.

ROBBED BY ZAPATISTAS.

G. W. Schultz, an American living in Mexico City, says that while in Independencia street in Tacuyaba, D. F., a suburb, he was stopped by six Zapatistas. He swears:

"I offered them some small change, which they stated was not sufficient, when they levelled their guns at me and forcibly deprived me of my watch.

C. A. English swears that on March 7 his wife went out on an errand He adds:

> She was accosted by two Carranzistas, a captain and a lieutenant, who insisted that she accompany them to a nearby saloon to take a drink. Upon her refusal to do so both grabbed her and tried to make her accompany them by force.
> After struggling with them for a moment she escaped their hold and ran back to the house and into the room where I was sleeping, they following at her heels. On entering my room they at once procured a pistol, which was hanging in a holster at the head of the bed.
> The entrance of the three awakened me and when I opened my eyes both officers were pointing their pistols at my head and at the same time telling me that they were going to outrage my wife. While the officers were thus engaged, my wife ran back into the courtyard and up a stairway to the roof of the house and down into the house of our nearest neighbor.

THREATENED WITH DEATH.

> When the officers noticed that my wife had escaped they forced me to get up from the bed and placed their pistols within a few inches of my face, saying they would kill me at once if I did not call my wife to come or take them to her at once. This I refused to do, and they compelled me to walk out of the room through the courtyard to the front door of the house.
> As I was dressed only in my underclothes upon reaching the street door of the house I refused to go any further and backed up against the door. He told me a second time that if I did not at once tell them where my wife was he would kill me, and upon telling him to shot if he wished—that I would not tell where she was—he fired two shots, the muzzle of the pistol not being over a foot from my face, as the powder burn and the scar of the bullet will readily prove it being necessary for the doctor to remove ninety-eight grains of powder from my neck, shoulder and left cheek.

SAVED BY OFFICER.

> The noise of the shooting at once attracted a crowd of people, and fortunately for me among them was a major of the Carranzistas army who was not intoxicated. I at once addressed him, requesting that he take notice of the two officers and place them under arrest. This he refused to do, but after talking with them for a few minutes they accompanied him to the nearest saloon.

$262 FOR JOBLESS REMAINS UNSPENT

The Hotel de Jobless closed its doors before all the money raised for the relief of its patrons had been spent, and two organizations are holding $262 donated for the homeless and hungry.

The suffragists have $200 left from the $1,500 they collected in their tag day on the Common, and there remains $62 from the proceeds of the benefit concert given by the Boston School of Social Science.

Lippa wants to establish a bread line at No. 63 Essex street, where he still maintains an office. Mrs. Charlotte Smith, president of the Woman's Homestead Association, backs him in this new idea. Lippa will leave today to do work for the jobless movement in Brockton and Providence.

American Benefit Association Will Give Dance Tonight

A record attendance is expected at the second annual ball of the Boston AMERICAN Benefit Association at Intercolonial Hall, Roxbury, tonight.

The "Boston Castles," Miss Elizabeth Gallagher and Clayton Clancy, will give an exhibition.

There will be piano and violin numbers by William Hayes and Miss Katherine Sullivan and singing by Miss U. O'Hara. Music for the dancing will be provided by Meehan's Orchestra.

The officers of the association are: P. F. Donovan, president; F. J. Rogers, vice-president; E. F. Clearey, secretary-treasurer; Carl O. Anderson, auditor.

EVERETT BOY, 15, IS SHOT BY CHUM

While bidding his chums good-bye on the eve of his departure for a long trip, William F. Blanchard, fifteen, of No. 11A Jones street, Everett, was shot accidentally by Allen Harvey, fifteen, of No. 19 Glendale street, Everett. A bullet from a revolver entered Blanchard's shoulder, breaking the collar-bone.

As the chums started to bid him farewell, Harvey picked up the revolver and snapped the trigger. Blanchard fell, and his parents came running into the room. A physician was called, and, although he probed for some time, he was unable to locate the bullet.

Combination Coal and Gas

Crawford Ranges

You need a coal range in Winter for kitchen warmth and for continuous hot water supply, but in Summer when you want a cool kitchen and less hot water a Gas range is the thing. You get both in the Crawford Combination Range and you get the best of each.

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe; explosions are impossible. In the End Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling.

Crawford Ranges are sold by Progressive Dealers Everywhere

REDUCE WEIGHT
Surely and Harmlessly
USE PHY-THY-RIN.

Are you too stout? Very well, then, you may weigh just what you wish. By using five-grain Phy-thy-rin tablets you may lose as many pounds of flesh as you desire, and feel all the better for it. Isn't it a fact that if you're too fat you're short of breath after much exercise? That is because you are carrying excess flesh which you had better get rid of.

The use of Phy-thy-rin tablets is a perfectly sane and healthful way to reduce your size, and it's the pleasant way since there isn't the trouble connected with it that dieting and exercising demand. Then, too, it's the sure and safe way. It's the Phy-thy-rin way. Don't forget the name.—Advertisement.

Simple Dress Aids Beauty, Women Told

SAN JOSE, April 14.—"If you would be beautiful, dress simply," said Mrs. Charles Washburn, the head of a school for girls, before the Jackson Mothers' Club. Mrs. Washburn delivered a lecture on the evils of dress, and declared that women with high heels, tilted hats and low-cut dresses look like manikins. Too much attention to dress conceals true beauty, she said.

Sprinter, Aged 90, Issues Challenge

YONKERS, N. Y., April 14.—David Anderson, of No. 23 Chestnut street, celebrated his ninetieth birthday by a little sprint around the block in which he lives. Anderson won a gold medal in a 10-yard dash when he was seventy-four. He has an open challenge to any man not more than ten years his junior.

Contestants Eager to Win

Somewhere in New England are twenty-five persons who will go, as the guests of the Boston American, to the San Francisco and San Diego Fairs.

Do you propose to be among the twenty-five? If not, what is your reason?

If you have health and ability, you might just as well be one of the twenty-five and enjoy three luxurious weeks "seeing America" from coast to coast without one cent of cost to yourself.

Also, if you are one of those twenty-five, you will receive FIFTY DOLLARS in gold coin for spending money on the trip.

Are you interested? The American's contest is for real, live persons willing to exert a little effort to win a great reward.

You could not invest your time and energy more profitably than in trying to win one of these magnificent trips.

And the best of it is that it will cost you nothing—nor your friends, either. All you have to do is to save the vote coupons which appear in the Daily and Sunday American and have your friends do likewise.

It is important to remember that you have until 5 o'clock P. M., Saturday, April 17, in which to get your Series "A" coupons into the office of the Contest Manager at No. 5 Winthrop square.

If sent by mail they must be sent before 5 P. M. on next Saturday, April 17.

No Series "A" coupons will be counted that are brought in or mailed after that day and hour.

Several candidates have neglected to prepay the full postage in sending their Series "A" coupons. It is most important that all vote coupons sent in should have the full amount of postal charges prepaid, as the Contest Manager will refuse to credit any which are not.

Watch for the full page of contestants' photographs in next Sunday's American. If you want yours in this page—better send it at once if you have not already done so.

Some day this week the Contest Manager will print in this daily story a complete, detailed itinerary of the trip. And when you see it you will work all the harder and wonder at the marvelous entertainment that has been provided for you.

Just one word of caution to all candidates: Be careful not to send in any Series "B" coupons when turning in your Series "A" coupons this week.

Contest Rules

Read Carefully

THE CONTEST—The Boston American's California Expositions Contest is a voting competition which is open to every man, woman and child (over 16 years of age) in New England, except employes of the American and their families and relatives. The contest begins Saturday, March 27, 1915, and ends Saturday, July 3, 1915.

THE PRIZES—Twenty-five De Luxe trips to the California Expositions and FIFTY DOLLARS in gold to each of the 25 trip winners will be awarded.

THE CANDIDATES—Every man, woman or child (over 16 years of age), who is a resident of New England, is eligible to compete, except employes of the American as noted above. Participation in any previous American contest does not debar anyone.

THE ENROLLMENT—Every candidate must be regularly enrolled from his or her permanent address on the enrollment blank printed in the Boston American Daily and Sunday or a copy thereof.

THE VOTES—Every day during the life of the contest, beginning Saturday, March 27, 1915, and ending Saturday, July 3, 1915, a coupon will appear in the Daily and Sunday American which will count for votes.

The Daily American coupon will count ONE vote, and the Sunday American coupon will count TEN votes.

The contest will be divided into 7 periods, and the coupons, during each period, will be numbered in series as follows:

1st period	Series A No. 1 to A No. 15	appearing March	27 to April	10
2d period	Series B No. 1 to B No. 15	appearing April	11 to April	25
3d period	Series C No. 1 to C No. 15	appearing April	26 to May	10
4th period	Series D No. 1 to D No. 15	appearing May	11 to May	25
5th period	Series E No. 1 to E No. 15	appearing May	26 to June	9
6th period	Series F No. 1 to F No. 15	appearing June	10 to June	24
7th period	Series G No. 1 to G No. 9	appearing June	25 to July	3

DOUBLE VOTE VALUE will be given for each consecutive SERIES turned in within one week after the appearance of the last coupon in each SERIES. For example: A set of (A) coupons numbered "Series A. No. 1" to "Series A No. 15" inclusive will count as 66 votes, if received in one package as directed below, whereas 13 daily and 2 Sunday coupons not consecutively numbered will count as only 33 votes (their face value). But in any event all the coupons must be turned in within the set time limit. For example: ALL (A) coupons must be turned in not later than 5 P. M., April 17. ALL (A) coupons received after this date and time will be refused; a similar rule applies to the other six SERIES.

Votes sent in daily during each period will count only for their face value.

Votes cannot be transferred from one contestant to another after receipt of same by the American.

The vote value of coupons will remain unchanged throughout the entire contest.

HOW TO SEND VOTE COUPONS—At the end of each contest period, collect all votes of that particular series, then put all your "Series A No. 1" coupons together, tie or fasten them in some manner and attach a slip of paper showing the number of "Series A. No. 1" coupons contained in that package. Do the same with "Series A No. 2" coupons, and the same with "Series A. No. 3, 4, 5," and so on up to and including "Series A No. 15," the last one of that series. Then wrap them all in one bundle and write or stamp, on the outside of this bundle, your name and address and the number of consecutive sets said to be contained therein.

WHERE TO SEND THE VOTES—Bring them to the Expositions Contest Headquarters at No. 5 Winthrop square (just around the corner from the American's main office at Summer and Devonshire streets), or, if sent by mail, send to American Expositions Contest, P. O. Box 3047, Boston, Mass.

THE WINNERS—The 25 candidates who receive the largest number of votes will be awarded the 25 prizes. In the event of total votes for any contestants who win being tied, similar prizes will be given to each winner so tied.

SPECIAL NOTICE—The American will not be responsible for the receipt of any packages unless sent by registered mail or express.

No persons can win more than one prize.

The American reserves the right to amend these rules and conditions from time to time, if it may seem necessary, in order to protect all contestants from any possible contingency which may arise. The Contest Editor will decide all disputed questions carefully and in good faith, and his decisions will be final and conclusive.

A Man and His Wife

Duval's Dropped Handkerchief Adds to the Trouble in the Household.

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

CHAPTER XXXIII.

Copyright, 1915, by the Star Company.

As Isabel emerged from the little parlor on the morning after John's evening at the club, she came face to face with Cynthia, who was passing through the hall on her way to the kitcen. The maid stared in surprise at her mistress' sallow face and heavy eyes. Then she glanced beyond her into the parlor where the disarranged couch cushions and the rumpled silk coverlet bore silent witness that somebody had slept there.

"Ain't you well, ma'am?" she asked curiously.

With the suspicious nature peculiar to her race she was ready to scent a mystery here.

"I'm perfectly well," the mistress replied quickly. "But I was wakeful last night and feared that my tossing about would disturb Mr. Hamilton, so I lay down in here for a few hours."

"Yas'm," the maid said. "I see."

Something in her tone annoyed Isabel. Perhaps had she herself not been painfully conscious of the events of last night she might not have thought that the maid suspected an irregularity of some sort. She wished that she had not met the girl in the hall. Why need such things happen? And why must one always lie to extricate one's self from a predicament?

One thing was certain. John must get up and appear as usual at the breakfast table. Cynthia's suspicions could do no harm, yet Isabel wished to allay them. Why had the maid looked at her so inquisitively?

The wife did not call her husband until she was almost dressed. Waking him was no easy task, and as he started to get up he turned pale. Isabel knew that his head ached, but said nothing about it. She had decided that he should be the first one to speak of his error.

Yet, when breakfast was announced and she went to his dressing room to summon him to that meal her resolution faltered as she noticed that he winced with pain.

"You have a headache, haven't you John?" she asked, as she might have addressed a stranger.

"Yes," he murmured, but without meeting her eyes.

"I will get you something for it," she said.

She got him an aspirin tablet and a glass of water, and told herself that she was magnanimous not to remind him what had brought him to this state. She did not wish to talk of it now, yet if she did not put him on his guard, his pallor and silence would increase the servant's conjectures that all was not as usual with her employers.

"John," the wife ventured, "I don't want to remind you of anything disagreeable, but I wish you would try to act like yourself this morning at the table. If you don't Cynthia will know that something's wrong."

"Cynthia!" he exclaimed, setting down the glass from which he had thirstly drained the last drop of water. "Who cares what she thinks? And what's wrong, anyway?"

ISABEL REGARDS HIM WITH INCREDULITY

His tone annoyed her. She had been kind and tolerant with him—and here he was talking as if he had done nothing incorrect or improper.

"Wrong?" she repeated. "When you think of your condition last night you must know what was wrong."

He frowned angrily. "I know that you made a great fuss over the fact that some punch gave me a headache," he retorted. "I am sorry you recalled to my mind what you said. I would rather forget that my wife did me the injustice of accusing me of intoxication when I was really only ill."

"Ill!" There was incredulity and reproach in the tone. "Do you mean to say"——

"I mean to say," he interrupted impatiently, "that breakfast has been ready for some time. I don't want to discuss last night—please."

"Heaven knows I don't want to!" she said, "I am too much ashamed of it."

He did not answer her. Instead, he walked across the hall into the dining room, and she needs must follow him. In spite of her indignation against him, she was glad to see that he did not appear as ill as he did a few minutes ago. His anger had caused the color to come to his cheeks.

Cynthia brought in the breakfast and the mistress began to talk as usual. "I see," she remarked lightly, "that a storm is on its way here. I hope it will not reach us soon. I want to go downtown today."

"Please, sir—you done drap dis las' night." It was Cynthia who spoke.

Isabel, glancing up from the morning paper, saw that the servant was holding out a handkerchief towards John.

"I dropped it?" John asked. Then, as his eyes fell on the embroidered initial in the corner of the handkerchief, he added: "That's not mine."

"Yes, sir, 't is," Cynthia insisted. "Leastways, de hall boy, he pick it up las' night jes' after you an' Mrs. Hamilton druv' off in de taxi. He was a-standin' a-watchin' you start, an' he see dis drap jes' when you was a-closin' de cab do'. He run out an' pick it up, an' he giv' it to me jes' now wid de morning newspaper. I tole him I could see dat it warn't your letter in de corner ob de hankchuf—for I knows dat Hamilton don't commence with no D."

THE MYSTERY OF THE HANDKERCHIEF PUZZLES

She giggled with pride at her discernment and erudition.

"It certainly doesn't," John began, but his wife interrupted him. "The hallboy was mistaken," she said hurriedly. "I dropped that handkerchief myself last night, John. Give it to me, Cynthia. It is an old handkerchief that I took with me to lay across my chest—for I was wearing a low-neck gown."

"I 'spose as you an Mr. Hamilton was togedder, de boy didn't know which it was dat drapped it," Cynthia remarked, her eyes on her mistress's face.

"But we"—John began, and again his wife broke in upon his speech.

"Cynthia!" she said sharply. "Hurry up and get the coffee. It's getting very late."

Although she spoke to her servant, she glanced at her husband warningly. And John, interpreting the glance, closed his lips. There was something here that he did not understand—something that Isabel must explain. But he would ask no questions until his wife and he were alone.

Anecdotes of the Famous

Interesting Items About the Great

Miss Ellen Terry, who underwent a successful operation to her eyes recently, is noted for her wit, and she was always the life and soul of the various theatrical companies of which she was a member.

The famous actress was once appearing in a play with a certain actor who was noted for his irritability. He used to complain that Miss Terry continually laughed at him during one of his most important scenes.

At last he wrote her a letter on the subject, in the course of which he said: "I am extremely sorry to tell you that it is impossible for me to make any effect in my scene if you persist in laughing at me on the stage and so spoiling the situation. May I ask you to change your attitude, as the scene is a most trying one?"

To this Miss Terry replied as follows: "You are quite mistaken. I never laugh at you on the stage. I wait till I get home!"

* * *

Lord Desbrough is known as one of the most remarkable sportsmen of the day, but few people are aware that he has swum Niagara Falls twice.

After accomplishing the feat once he was about to return to England, and before the boat sailed was discussing the subject with some friends.

An American, who was standing by, sceptically at last broke in with: "Did I hear you say you had swum Niagara?"

"Yes, I have," answered his lordship.

"That's not good enough!" laughed the Yankee. "No man could attempt it and come out alive."

Lord Desborough shrugged his shoulders.

"Then I had better go back and swim again," he said. So, to the amazement of the American, he calmly went back and swam Niagara for the second time.

Hurt His Feelings

"Have I been a good boy lately?" queried little Bobby of his mother, after a whole week of obedience.

"Of course you have," answered mother, who had been extremely pleased to note the change for the better in him.

"And do you trust me now?" he continued.

"Of course mother trusts her little man."

"I mean really, really ever so much trust me, you know," he said.

"Yes: I really, really do. But why do you ask?"

"Well," began Bobby, looking his mother squarely in the face, "if you trust me so much as you say you do, why do you go on locking the jam up in the cupboard?"

Singer Says Flowers Make Women Attractive

Estelle Wentworth Declares Blossoms Smooth Wrinkles and Lighten Sorrow

Two photographs of beautiful Estelle Wentworth

Estelle Wentworth, the beautiful prima donna of the Aborn Opera Company, believes that flowers help make a woman more attractive than anything else.

"I always have flowers round me," she declared, "because there is something about their perfume and appearance which smoothes away wrinkles, lightens sorrow, and makes one carefree. I think if a woman could always move and have her being among orchids, roses, violets and tulips she would never grow old, at least not for a very long time. Of course I cannot afford to purchase as many flowers as I should wish, but I spend much more than I can afford to keep vases in my room and dressing room filled with beautiful fresh flowers."

Miss Wentworth has just returned from four years of singing in German opera houses. She came to this country just before the war broke out for a couple of months' vacation at her home in New York. She was unable to get back and her German contracts were cancelled automatically by her non-appearance.

Miss Wentworth is what the Germans call a light dramatic, or what we term a lyric soprano. She appeared last year in several of the Strauss successes, and particularly in one in which has not yet been heard in this country "Ariadne aux Naxos." "Ariadne," Miss Wentworth explains, contains even prettier music than "The Rose Cavalier."

With the Aborns she is singing dramatic roles and made a big success the opening night of the season in Boston as Aida. After the performance she was able to surround herself with any quantity of flowers sent her by admirers.

Fortunes Out of Wrecks

Practically every vessel that swims the sea is insured. The risks are heavy, for the sums involved are enormous.

Maritime men remember the Black Friday of January, 1913, when four big vessels were posted at once at Lloyd's—all total losses.

There was the Veronese, wrecked off the Portuguese coast. Her hull was worth $450,000, her cargo $750,000. The combined value of the three others was $1,000,000, and these figures will give some idea of the huge amounts which have to be paid out for wrecked vessels.

When a vessel is wrecked the underwriters have no choice but to pay. When they have paid the wreck becomes their property, and if it is still above water, two courses are open to them. They can either employ a salving company to recover the cargo, or they can put the wreck up at auction and take the price from the highest bidder.

In no salesroom have greater gambles been seen than in those where wrecks are auctioned off. There are connoisseurs in jetsam, and on the whole they do fairly well.

But sometimes the highest bidder is a man who has no particular experience in the art of salvage. He has somehow got an idea that there is more in the broken hull than is generally supposed, or perhaps that the wreck itself is not so inaccessible as the underwriters have imagined.

Too often disappointment awaits him, but on the other hand there are many cases on record of fortunes having been landed by lucky speculators.

Such a case occurred a year ago. In February a tramp named the Jane Rowe was piled up on those ugly rocks known as Bolt Tail, not far from Dartmouth, England. The insurance agents had a look at her and advised that she be sold as she lay.

A Plymouth marine-store dealer made a bid and secured her for the modest sum of $1,250.

Now, if the Jane Rowe had been an empty hull the purchaser would easily have doubled his purchase money simply by her value as old iron, to say nothing of anchors, chains and riding lights. But in her holds lay 3,000 tons of yellow rubble. It looks queer stuff, but is really copper ore worth $30 a ton.

Then there was the Jean Bartz. She was a 3,000-ton French tramp which butted her nose on the rocks of Wandan Isand, off the south coast of Australia. Her hold filled, her after part sank under water, and salvage was considered hopeless. At first no one would offer for her, but two months later J. Bell, a grain merchant of Melbourne, made a bid and secured her for $1,500.

The critics laughed, but Mr. Bell sent down a diver who reported that the only damage was a hole about a foot in diameter in the bows.

The hole was quickly plugged, the hold pumped out, the vessel was floated and towed safely to Melbourne. Even in her damaged condition she was at once valued at $60,000.

Mr. Bell deserved his fortune. It was, however, sheer luck which brought a fortune to another wreck buyer.

He knew absolutely nothing about the business, and, as he has since said, the $1,500 which secured him the wreck of the Juno, that went ashore off the Yorkshire coast, was simply a gamble.

The Juno was a small vessel and when her buyer examined her the only articles of apparent value were a large number of pictures. Pictures that have been soaked in salt water could hardly be supposed to have much value, but our bold purchaser had them out, and brought them ashore.

To every one's surprise, they were very little the worse, and eventually sold for more than $45,000.

Up-to-Date Jokes

A story is being told of a couple of jewellers who were recently touring Spain. They could not speak the language, and, consequently, had some difficulty in making known their wants.

One day they came to a wayside inn, and tried to obtain some meat—roast beef for choice. But nobody could understand them.

"What are we to do?" asked one of them despairingly.

"I know," said the other, a ray of hope appearing. "I'll draw a picture of a cow. Then they'll understand."

He made a rough sketch of a cow, put a "2" beneath it, and handed it to the waiter, who instantly smiled to show that he understood, and went off to execute their order.

A few minutes later he returned with two tickets for a bullfight.

Stories of Successful Wives

"How I Urged My Husband on to a Bigger Salary"—the First of a New Real Life Series.

By a Successful Wife

My success as a wife is due to foresight before marriage.

My husband had just graduated from a minor engineering school when we met, and soon found employment at a salary of $10.80 per week (considered fair for a beginner), but he was eager for knowledge. He wished to continue his studies at a higher institution. He was devoted to me, but how was it possible to attend college every evening and Saturday afternoon and see me also? We both worked during the day. "If our going about together will interfere with your studies, I beg you to give me up," I said, and I truly meant it, for I did not want to be a burden, nor hindrance to the man I loved.

"Never!" said he. "I will not continue."

"You must!" said I.

"It is impossible."

"Nothing is impossible." I felt he was sincere and I explained how he could do it.

"When can I see you?"

"Sunday night after 7 p. m. he would be through with his week's work and could call on me then.

Now the financial end. We all know that ten eighty per does not go very far, no matter how hard one tries to stretch it, and together we came to these figures. Four dollars a week for board (lunch from home), six dollars a week for college, sixty cents for car fares to work and the balance, twenty cents car fare to my house.

This lasted for eight months and was a trying time for both. He was being ridiculed; everybody was giving him advice by the wholesale and urging him to give up engineering.

"Stick to it. Give it a fair trial. How can you be expected to start on the top rung of a ladder without working your way upwards?" I counselled. I was earning a good salary, and I now looked into the future with open eyes and a clear brain. I became more saving, less extravagant on clothes and saw little of my friends, girls who also earned good salaries. I was moulding myself to the future before me. I did not wait for circumstances to surprise me. This is the key to my present happiness.

I was soon surprised. My advice—give it a fair trial—did some good. He passed a State examination and was immediately appointed at $900 a year. This was nearly doubling his former salary. How big that $900 looked to us. What a beautiful castle we built on its foundation. How strong were its walls cemented with our love, and how beautiful its interior brightened with our sincerity. That day we planned our wedding.

Another school term arrived. "I think I will rest this year," he said. I knew it was another way of saying, "We can't afford it." Since it is not compulsory for night students to follow a certain schedule, we both took pad and pencil and commenced figuring.

"You can take four subjects," I told him. "These will amount to $100, including all expense. Thus you will have accomplished something this year toward your goal."

With careful management our $900 covered this item.

Recently my husband passed another examination and now receives a salary of $1,200 a year. This, I will allow, is not a great amount, nor does it spell success yet, but when I recall the ten eighty a week of two years ago I feel it is a royal sum. My husband's studies will be completed next year, and we are looking forward to better prospects.

An Australian Mystery

Garrett P. Serviss Tells of the Curious Dingo

GARRETT P. SERVISS

One of the mysteries of the little lone continent of Australia, which is so full of zoological puzzles, is the dingo.

The dingo is a wild dog, so like the domesticated dogs of Europe in many ways that naturalists have been set to wondering how he got marooned on the far-off ocean-encircled land which he now inhabits.

A serious objection to the theory that the ancestors of the dingoes were domesticated dogs carried to Australia by early settlers is the fact that it seems to be impossible to tame them. They can be kept and reared in zoological gardens, and at the homes of animal fanciers, but they never show any affection for a master, and will bolt on the least provocation or temptation.

They will foregather with ordinary dogs and play rough and tumble with them in the utmost good nature, but they are very quarrelsome among themselves. It is said that they never bark like a dog, but are fond of howling like a wolf. Yet they look like dogs and not like wolves, and they like to be petted by human beings. But they show no gratitude or attachment.

Their usual color is a dingy yellow-red, but sometimes they are pure black. They are beautifully formed and remarkable for their fast running and high jumping, as well as for their endurance, in all of which they greatly excel ordinary dogs. They dig burrows in the ground in which they rear their young, but they take advantage of caves and hollow logs for this purpose when they can find them.

In captivity they will eat anything that is offered them, even rice pudding and cooked fish, but what they like best is mice and birds. Mr. Laidlay, a British naturalist, who has raised dingoes and concluded that they can never be thoroughly tamed, reports that he has seen them carrying birds so hard to catch as skylarks. They stalk their prey like cats and can jump several feet clear from the ground with astonishing agility.

Mr. Laidlay rejects the theories which make the dingo either the descendant or the ancestor of the domesticated dog, or a near relative of the wolf, his idea being that the dingo is a distant species.

Mr. Laidlay has a female coyote which has adopted a litter of six dingo puppies, and they are very fond of their foster mother.

A Real Flesh Builder For Thin People

A New Discovery.

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive. All druggists in Boston and vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Because It Has the BEST and LATEST WAR NEWS

The present European conflict is beyond comparison the greatest war in human history. Its consequences will be momentous to America as well as to Europe.

Have the readers of the BOSTON AMERICAN and the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN been adequately served in the reporting and illustrating of this amazing conflict?

Let THE FACTS SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES.

Immediately upon the first declaration of war the Hearst newspapers arranged for exclusive American rights in the special war service of the greatest London dailies. Without regard to expense they secured the rights to the correspondence, mail and telegraphic, of such great London journals as the London Times and London Daily Telegraph.

This was in addition to the BOSTON AMERICAN'S regular sources of news, including the unrivalled cable news supplied by the International News Service.

Readers of the AMERICAN will recall the immense superiority not only of its news, but also of its pictures. Among the notable pictures to be printed exclusively in the AMERICAN have been the most remarkable war photographs ever taken, such as the first and only photograph of the sinking of the British battleship Audacious and the photograph of the sinking German cruiser Bluecher in the great North Sea naval battle.

From the very beginning of the war the BOSTON AMERICAN'S picture service has left all competitors far in the rear.

In addition to the splendid and accurate news and the remarkable pictures printed by the AMERICAN, it has secured signed articles on various phases of the war from these foremost writers and experts of the entire world:

RUDYARD KIPLING, the famous author.
GUGLIELMO FERRERO, the great Italian historian.
PIERRE LOTI, the French novelist.
GENERAL COUNT VON BERNHARDI, the German military expert.
HILAIRE BELLOC, Europe's foremost military critic.
NORMAN ANGELL, the celebrated English author.
G. BERNARD SHAW, the famous satirist.
ISRAEL ZANGWILL, the Zionist leader.
LOUIS D. BRANDEIS, the famous Boston publicist.
DR. E. J. DILLON, noted author and war correspondent.
PROFESSOR HUGO MUNSTERBERG of Harvard, the eminent author and scientist.
FREDERIC VILLIERS, famous war correspondent and artist.
ELLIS ASHMEAD BARTLETT, soldier and journalist.
SIR WILLIAM RAMSAY, the great English scientist.
G. K. CHESTERTON, the famous essayist.
ANTHONY HOPE, the English author.
GABRIELE D'ANNUNZIO, the noted Italian poet and philosopher.

Among the war correspondents are such men as Francis Lavelle Murray, Edward Lyell Fox, C. F. Bertelli, Herbert Temple, Stanley Washburne, Granville Fortesque, Brixton D'Allaire, Orton Tewson, Frederick Werner and Frederick Rennet.

LAST week more than 400,000 people bought the BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN and carried it home every day—more than a million read it every day. The circulation of the EVENING AMERICAN is greater than the combined circulations of all the other evening newspapers printed in Boston. More than 350,000 people bought the SUNDAY AMERICAN last Sunday, and 1,000,000 people read it. The circulation of the SUNDAY AMERICAN is the largest SUNDAY circulation in New England.

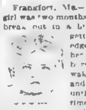
FINE RASH ON BABY'S CHEEK

Itched and Burned Awfully Behind Ears. Was Fretful and Scratched. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Baby's Face and Head Well.

Frankfort, Me.—"When my little baby girl was two months old her cheeks began to break out in a little fine rash and kept getting worse. At the edges of her hair and behind her ears seemed to itch and burn awfully. She would wake up out of her sleep and cry and rub her face until it would bleed. At times it seemed to go in under the skin, then it would break out just like a burn. The skin would scale up and peel off. She was fretful and scratched.



"I was given two kinds of ointment and I also used others all without success. I saw an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper and sent for a free sample. When I had used these with a large cake of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment baby's face and head were well." (Signed) Mrs. Claude Cox, October 16, 1914.

SCHOLASTIC SPLUTTERS

BY DOC.

Huntington School opens its season this afternoon at the old American League Park, having as an opponent the High School of Commerce. Huntington has been shaping up well in practice and intends to make its 1915 baseball debut a success. The Commerce boys have the slight advantage of having already participated in a game and although they did not add to their laurels, they showed themselves possessed of a fighting spirit that is bound to carry them to many a victory in the future.

* * *

Many of the boys in the Huntington School nine show to great advantage in other lines of sport. Charlie Ziegler, the star pitcher, is a sprinter of no mean ability, while his battery mate, Arthur Rice, is famed as a shotputter in interscholastic circles.

In Dutton, a newcomer, Coach O'Donnell of Everett believes he has solved the 1915 pitching problem. This youngster, in his first start of the year, held the opposing squad to three hits and forced twelve of the batsmen to whiff the atmosphere.

* * *

Medford High will stack up against [illegible] today in its second start of the [illegible]. Medford lays claim to [illegible] a most formidable nine. In their first go against Mechanic Arts last Saturday, they completely overwhelmed their opponents, piling up 14 tallies, while the boys of the Bu[illegible] and [illegible] to register.

* * *

Woburn High and Malden will meet in what promises to be one of the closest games of the day. The teams are evenly matched.

The dual track meet between Concord High and Arlington High is scheduled to take place on the morning of Patriots' Day, April 19. The town of Concord is to award the winning team a silver loving cup. A number of beautifully carved medals are to be given to the individual stars of the contest.

* * *

While baseball is obviously in the limelight and will continue to monopolize the conspicuous position for many days to come, schools of Greater Boston are not entirely neglecting other sports.

Newton High is busily engaged in preparing its tennis schedule for the coming season. So far eight games have found a place on its list. They include [illegible]

TRIS SPEAKER MAY BE LOST TO RED SOX IN FIRST BATTLE OF SEASON AGAINST ATHLETICS

By A. H. C. MITCHELL.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Ready to shy their castor into the 1915 baseball ring, the Red Sox are right here, Johnnie-on-the spot as it were. They are awaiting the call of play at Shibe Park this afternoon in the opening game of the American League baseball season. They are to face their time-honored rivals, the Philadelphia Athletics, champions of the league, and they are ready to begin operations just where they left off at the close of last season, when they made the celebrated Mackmen look like thirty cents.

Though well fortified in every department, it is not unlikely that the Boston team will enter the race with two bunged-up men. We will not know until the two teams actually line up this afternoon whether the redoubtable Tris Speaker, the highest salaried player in baseball, will be able to take his accustomed place in centre field and at bat scare the wits out of the opposing pitcher.

Nor unless the game has actually started will we know whether Harold Janvrin, the Roxbury lad who has been playing second base for the Red Sox, will cover the territory around "keystone" corner.

TERRIFIC CLOUT BELOW KNEE.

For be it known, just on the eve of battle, these two sterling players went on the hospital list. Speaker, who was never better physically in his life twenty hours ago, received a terrific clout just below his kneecap in the game at Richmond yesterday and for a matter of five minutes it was feared that the knee cap was broken, which might have ended his baseball career then and there.

It was in the last inning of the game and the opposing pitcher, a spitball artist named Morrisette, was trying his best to make a record against one of the best known sluggers in the National game. He was putting all his stuff on the ball and with the count one and one he cut loose a wicked shoot which crashed into Speaker's knee with terrific force.

Speaker stood as though he was killed. He was afraid to move his leg for fear it would show the knee cap broken. All of us witnessed the accident and realized the seriousness of the situation, thought it was all off with the great ball player. For five minutes it seemed, Speaker stood at the plate without moving a muscle. Players rushed up to him, fearing the worst, while he stood there unable to move.

SPEAKER WILL PLAY IF HE CAN.

Finally, when the pain passed off he gingerly moved his leg to see what had really happened; to see if he was out of it for good, or that good fortune was on his side. He found he could move his leg and a few moments later he limped to the bench, supported by four of his teammates. A few moments later he crawled off the field and returned to his hotel.

Last night there was a big bunch showing under his kneecap and this morning had hard work getting out of the sleeping car. But he declared that unless the leg was sawed off he would be right there in his old place at centre field this afternoon. This shows the gameness of the boy.

As for Janvrin, he contracted a severe cold in his eye in Cincinnati. Yesterday it was badly swollen and inflamed and he was not able to get into a uniform. Mike McNally, the St. Paul kid, played second for Janvrin and did excellent work.

Today it looks as though the Roxbury lad would not be able to play and that McNally would fill in at second. Boston "fans" need not worry as "Mac" is a very lively member of the baseball fraternity.

PITCHERS IN GOOD SHAPE.

But still the Red Sox are what might be called crippled. Fortunately their pitchers are in good shape. We baseball reporters who have been on the trip since March 4, have wondered who would pitch the opening game. We have asked Bill Carrigan and his answer has been he has not decided.

Shore is in perfect shape and the chances are that he will be the man to take up the burden. But Collins, too, is fit. Until the batteries are announced by the umpire at 3 o'clock this afternoon no one will know who is to pitch for either the Red Sox or the Athletics.

Leonard caught cold in his arm last week and though he is keen on pitching the first game, Carrigan said early today that he was undecided.

Red Sox Will Be in Fight from Start, Declares Carrigan

By BILL CARRIGAN.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—Boston "fans" can rest assured that the Red Sox will be in the fight from the start, full of confidence and with a view of giving all the other clubs a grand battle for the pennant.

Pitchers Leonard, Collins, Shore and Mays are now in great shape and ready for the call of time. In Mays, I am placing a lot of confidence, and feel that this youngster will deliver the goods. Heinie Wagner's arm is fast rounding into its old time form and he will soon be in the lineup.

Although I hate to predict, I feel that the Red Sox will be in a very conspicuous position at the end of the season.

"The Rabbit's" Column

By Walter J. Maranville

SHORTSTOP OF THE BRAVES

Baseball is with us again. The National and American League pennant fights will get under way this afternoon and there will be plenty of excitement until the baseball curtain drops in October. We will start the season with a series with the Phillies and I believe that we will be able to dispose of Pat Moran's team. Dick Rudolph or Tom Hughes will pitch for us, while it seems almost certain that Alexander will do the hurling for the visitors. Alexander is a marvelous pitcher, but the Braves have a habit of winning from the best pitchers in the league almost as easily as they do from the young men who are not quite as famous as some of their fellow hurlers. I am glad that the regular season has started as exhibition games and Spring training work is very monotonous. We always try to win our exhibition contests, but such encounters lack the punch which there is in the league battles.

There will be the usual flag raising, parade and the other stunts which always go with the opening game. But history repeats, and in each of the eight municipalities solemn ceremony is interrupted with shrill cries of "Take'em off," "Give us the game" and—mimicking what the umpire should do—just plain "Play Ball!"

The game is the thing, and little does anyone care what occurs before the contending teams clash on the diamond. The first box score—that's what everybody wants to see, what everybody has been waiting for since last October. A big league pennant race consists of a good deal more than just the opening game, yet that one game is part of the race and, of course, the first glimpse anyone can get of it. So capacity crowds are turning out at nearly every major league park in the land, excepting only those where there is no home game today and those where rain is falling.

The American and National Leagues, taken together, comprise a total of sixteen teams. There are five cities—New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis, the five biggest cities in the country—that boast two teams each. Thus, with each of the other six teams in a different place, there are eleven cities represented in the combined layout. How to give all these cities a game on opening day is a problem that can't be solved. Three of the eleven have to wait for their turn later.

This year the schedule makers have failed to provide games for Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn, but since the Brooklynites can ride an hour on the elevated or subway to see their favorites play the Giants at the Polo Grounds in New York, they do not need any sympathy. Cleveland and Pittsburgh "fans" are the ones deserving of pity. They must wait until a week from tomorrow before they can see a home game. Today's list of openings provides a number of games that possess interest for fandom at large in addition to the home partisans. The American League presents the banner battle of the day at Philadelphia. There the Boston Red Sox, picked by nine out of ten critics to win the pennant, are tackling the Athletics, holders of the 1914 title. The Athletics are a greatly changed team, with Bender, Plank, Collins and Baker, the big four of the team gone. Bender and Plank have jumped to the Feds, Collins has been sold to the White Sox and Baker has retired. Just how badly the loss of these men will affect the team is a question every baseball follower would like to have answered, following the defeat of the team in the world's series last Fall by the Boston Braves with these four still in line. The acquisition of Nap Lajoie to replace Collins at second base is another item of interest in connection with Connie Mack's team. How far has Lajoie gone back? Or has he come back again? This game, in its final analysis, is regarded as a clash between the old order and the new—the champions of 1914 and the probable champions of 1915.

The other American League games of today look to be a bit one-sided. The White Sox, playing the Browns in St. Louis, appear on paper to be considerably the stronger team, with Eddie Collins at second base. Walter Johnson's pitching in Washington is expected to prove too much for Bill Donovan's Yankees. Cleveland, picked unanimously as the weakest team in the league, is not believed to have much chance against Cobb, Crawford and company in Detroit.

What promises to develop some of the best baseball of the day in the National League is the game in Chicago between the Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs. These clubs figure to be up in the first division all the way, probably splitting third and fourth place, with St. Louis in the berth just under the Braves and Giants. Miller Huggins, the doughty little manager of the Cardinals, has quite a changed team. Outfielder Lee Magee has jumped to the Feds, Catcher Ivy Wingo is with Cincinnati and Pitcher Poll Perritt has been traded to the Giants. Outfielder Bob Bescher from the Giants is all Huggins can show in exchange for these men. But he has a fine young shortstop in Daringer and a promising outfielder in Long, as well as several young pitchers who look capable.

The principal change in the Cubs is the new regime which brings Roger Bresnahan to the fore as manager in place of Hank O'Day. Bresnahan will exhibit for the first time in a real big league game youthful Polly McLarry, a spectacular second baseman from Louisville, who is touted as a heavy hitter as well as a capable fielder. Since Bresnahan used to manage the Cardinals in former years, he will be particularly anxious to win today.

The Braves are enough of a magnet in themselves and their course will be followed closely all season. The Braves are stronger than when they wound up the world's series last Fall, having added on Sherwood Magee, the hard hitting outfielder from the Phillies. The men lost by the club since the big series are Dugey and Whitted, who were traded to the Phillies, and the jumpers, Leslie Mann and Charley Deal.

The Phillies are more changed than the Braves. Besides Magee, two other stars are missing in the persons of Third Baseman Hans Lobert and Catcher Charley Dooin, former manager, who has been succeeded by Pat Moran. For Lobert, Moran got Pitcher Demaree, Third Baseman Stock and Catcher Jack Adams, a youngster, from the Giants, and Cincinnati gave him Infielder Bert Niehoff and cash for Dooin.

Willard Cannot Box in New York Theatre

NEW YORK, April 14.—Permission was sought by Jack Curley, manager of Jess Willard, to have the world's champion appear on the stage at Hammerstein's Theatre. The Boxing Commission, to which the application was made, reiterated its refusal to permit Willard to box on any stage in this State.

Manager Curley was told that if the champion desires to box he must conform to the rules of the commission, and that means putting on the gloves only in a club licensed by the State.

RUDOLPH OR HUGHES TO OPPOSE ALEXANDER IN OPENING GAME OF NATIONAL PENNANT RACE

By JACK CONWAY.

Boston's major league baseball season will be opened this afternoon when the sensational Braves battle the Phillies at Fenway Park. There is a tremendous amount of interest being shown in the tussle between the clans of Stallings and Moran and close to 25,000 "fans" are expected to be on hand when the rival teams clash.

There will be the usual parade, flag raising, speeches, boquets and band today. Mayor Curley will toss out the first ball, while State and city officials will occupy special sections in the grandstand.

The Braves will receive quite a different reception from the one which was tendered to them a year ago. They were then considered a sure second division ball club and were laughed at and kidded throughout the entire National League circuit. Stallings' men, however, surprised the entire baseball world and won the National League pennant after the most thrilling fight in the history of the dear old national pastime. They then conquered the Mackmen who were supposed to be unbeatable.

The Braves and Phillies are both fit for this afternoon's encounter. The rival managers—Stallings and Moran—declared today that their clubs are ready for hostilities and that they will have no alibis to offer if they are defeated.

Betting on this afternoon's game is at odds of 5 to 3 with Stallings' band the favorites. A large number of wagers were made at these figures while a number of big bets were placed in the hotel district at 100 to 60 with the Braves on the long end.

RUDOLPH PITCHING CHOICE.

Either Dick Rudolph or Tom Hughes will do the hurling for the Braves this afternoon, while the mighty Grover Cleveland Alexander is almost sure to be named to perform in the box for the visitors.

Rudolph and Hughes are in better condition right now than any of Stallings' other pitchers with the exception of Adolph Luque, the Cuban flinger, who is already in grand shape. Rudolph is the logical choice for opposing Moran's crew, as he has had more experience than Hughes and is accustomed to showing before record breaking crowds and in important games. Dick was Stallings' trump card in the world's series last Fall and we believe that the "Miracle Man" will use him in the box this afternoon if he warms up well.

HUGHES MAY GO TO MOUND.

If Rudolph is not right today, Hughes will go to the mound for the champions of the well known universe. Tom is not very well known to the rank and file of New England's baseball lovers but he possesses plenty of class and should be a great help to the Braves this year. He has had a wealth of baseball experience and was with Stallings when the latter was in charge of the New York Yankees.

Hughes was sent back to the minors on account of trouble with his pitching arm, but he "came back" and is pitching better ball than at any time during his career on the diamond.

Hughes pitched a full game against the Senators last Friday. He was beaten, but would have been credited with a victory if it had not been for some wretched umpiring.

ALEXANDER LEAGUE LEADER.

With Alexander doing the sharp shooting for the Phillies, the Braves will have to play at top speed all of the time if they are to breeze in a winner. Alexander is recognized as the boss of the National league pitchers, while there are many baseball experts who believe that he is a better hurler than Walter Johnson of the Senators.

Alexander is usually in good condition and he declared today that he feels better this Spring than he has at any time during his career. Therefore Gaffney's honorable crew of hired men will have to keep batting for everything in sight this afternoon in order to disperse the visitors.

Sherwood Nottingham Magee, fence buster extraordinary, will make his first appearance in a Braves uniform in Boston today. Magee did not take part in yesterday's engagement with Brown, as he injured one of his fingers last week in Washington and wished to be at his best for the grand opening. Consequently he took a day off.

Speaking of Magee reminds us that this esteemed extra base hitter says his middle name is Robert and not Nottingham. But as Nottingham looks very classical in print it will have to go as a part of Magee's makeup while he pastimes in these parts.

The "fans" are sure to give Magee a rousing reception. He is a veteran of the National league and played brilliant baseball during his long career with the Phillies. Magee is a good fielder, a clever base runner, a fair thrower, and is always sure to wallop the dear old horsehide for an average over the .300 mark.

Leslie Mann is faster than Magee, but he is not in the latter's class as a batter. The Braves lost many games by one and two runs last year which would have resulted in victories if they had been able to come through with a couple of safe blows at the right time.

Mann was not a reliable batter. He would hit well one day while he would be unable to even get within speaking distance of the ball on the next.

It will be different with Magee. He is a natural slugger and has a habit of getting his hits when a safe smash is most needed. He also gets many extra base hits during the course of a season and this makes him of all the more value to his club.

Hank Gowdy will do the catching for the Braves this afternoon. The Ohio youth has been playing sensational baseball this year. He has been doing better work behind the bat than he did in 1914, which is saying a whole lot, while he is still able to hit 'em "where they ain't."

'Braves Will Begin Where They Left Off'---Stallings

By GEORGE T. STALLINGS.

The Braves will start the season where they left off last October. Every member of my team is fit and ready for the race. Boston "fans" have my word that their Champions will fight for the position they now hold all through the season. It must be considered that there are seven other good teams in the race, and, consequently, I will refrain from making predictions.

With the possible exception of James and Tyler, who are not in perfect shape as yet, the pitching department is strong in every respect. With the acquisition of Sherwood Magee, I figure that the offensive strength of the club is better than that of last season.

Gilmore Does Not Fear Other Suits

CHICAGO, April 14.—President Gilmore said he just discovered that the attorneys of organized ball in their answer in the Federal League's anti-trust suit had asked injunctions against all players who had left it for his league. This, he said, precludes a chance that suits to prevent the three players of the Pittsburgh Federals, who opened here today, from taking part in the game, would be filed.

Ed Walsh Will Be in Shape in 3 Weeks

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 14.—Ed Walsh, the Chicago American League pitcher, was told by the medical expert who has been treating his arm that he would be in shape to return to Chicago within three weeks and take his regular turn in the box.

Bay State Boys May Be Lost to Colby

WATERVILLE, Me., April 14.—Captain John Lowney of Roxbury and Edward Cawley of Lowell may be lost to the Colby team on account of difficulties with the college office. If the efforts of the two athletes to make up their deficiences are successful, Colby's team will be composed chiefly of veterans. Ben Houser, the former Braves player, who arrived here this week to take up his duties as coach of the Blue and Gray squad, has begun his task.

Ammidon Wins Close Match.

Although no very large scores occured in the second game of the New England three-cushion championship billiard tournament at the Imperial room, Ammidon won from Gillissie, 50 to 44, by steady, consistent play. Carroll and Dr. Hudson will be the players tonight.

TRY THIS WHISKEY AT OUR EXPENSE

Send us $1.95 and we'll ship you this big full gallon jug of Richardson's 1861 Special Straight Whiskey, aged in U. S. bonded warehouses. Take one, two or three drinks, and if in your opinion it is not better than any $3.00 whiskey you ever tasted, you get your money back.

You're the judge and what you say—"goes." If this whiskey isn't better than the kind you've been paying $3.00 a gallon for—you get your money back as quick as Uncle Sam can bring it to you.

No personal checks accepted. Send cash or money order.

An Invitation

We are doing something that's never been done before when we offer

A GALLON OF STRAIGHT KENTUCKY WHISKEY FOR $1.95

Every judge of whiskey knows that straight Kentucky whiskey is worth $3.00 a gallon or more. They've been paying $3.00 to $4.00 a gallon for it for years. They're bound to doubt just a mite that we can sell it for $1.95. We don't blame them.

IT'S UP TO US TO PROVE IT.

We're going to prove it at our expense.

Actress 'Dies'; Is Revived; Succumbs in 'Tipperary' Show

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 14.—Mrs. Marion C. Leffingwell, known on the stage as Effie Darling, dropped into a chair on her stage and crooned a little Irish song to her at the conclusion of the first act of "Tipperary" at a local theatre. She did not rise, and when the other members of the company went to see they discovered her apparently dead. She had been taking sleeping medicine for insomnia. A pulmotor was brought and after three hours' work there was a fluttering of her pulse. She relapsed, however, and died an hour later.

One Street Railway Pays Out $300,000 to Lawyers in Four Years

Every Intelligent Man and Woman in Massachusetts Knows What This Means—The Initiative and the Referendum Constitute the Only Remedy for the Sort of Conditions Revealed by the Bay State Wage Hearing

Three hundred thousand dollars paid by one street railway to lawyers in the last four years! Such is the revelation in the Bay State Street Railway wage hearing.

This enormous sum was paid to a few lawyers for extraordinary work—not for regular legal service. There are other sums paid to other lawyers for the regular legal work.

What does it mean? Is there anybody so little acquainted with the public affairs of his State and country that he does not know what it means? Every intelligent man and woman knows that it is part of the corporation jackpot devoted to the control of the members of our Legislature and the making and unmaking of our laws, according to the will of these public service corporations.

This ONE street railway in four years spent SIX MILLION car fares in these strange "legal" fees. ONE STREET RAILWAY! There are dozens of street railways in Massachusetts. There are ALSO the powerful railroads, the gas and electric light companies.

Do the citizens understand NOW why representative government has ceased to represent the people since the rise of these public service corporations? Do the CONSERVATIVE citizens understand NOW why the demand for the initiative and the referendum and for public ownership of the railroads and the other public utilities has grown so strong? Does the standpat Republican understand NOW why the voters of Massachusetts have declared for the initiative and the referendum so overwhelmingly during these last four years?

It is vain to blame the directors of the Bay State Railway. It is vain to blame the lawyers who took this money or the members of the Legislature who record the decrees of these corporations and not the will of their constituents. These men are all alike the victims of a system of government, once the best the world had known, established by our fathers when the conditions of society and business were very simple and wealth was safely diffused, but utterly broken down by the changes which the dangerous concentration of wealth, and hence of power, has wrought in the last fifty years.

In times of peace MONEY is the dominating power. When it is concentrated in the hands of a few, then we have power concentrated into a few hands. After that the forms of a democratic republic may remain, but the substance, the reality, has gone. There is not in the annals of any nation a single instance of the representatives of the great body of the people withstanding for long the steady pressure of money. In the long run public opinion loses in the struggle with money, if the decision lies with REPRESENTATIVES and not with the WHOLE people.

This vital weakness of an ABSOLUTELY representative government, in the midst of great and concentrated wealth, lies deep down in human nature itself. It cannot be cured because human nature is unchanging. Individual honor and altruism is at least no GREATER today than two thousand years ago in the democracies and republics of the ancient world. The stories of Aristides and of Regulus could not be bettered today and have few counterparts in our modern history. A form of government which is based upon the assumption of the existence of virtues greater than the AVERAGE man possesses rests upon a foundation more insecure than the foundation of a building supposed to be resting upon rock but really resting upon quicksand.

The average man has not the moral fortitude to withstand the corrupt persuasions which beset representatives with the power to make laws in our modern society. You on the outside may THINK you would resist their temptations. But you do not understand conditions in our modern legislatures. Temptations come insidiously even to the man who enters upon his duties with the highest intentions. It is so easy to argue down one's conscience when self-advantage is the makeweight. The personal advantage means so much to the representative; THAT is clear. But the right and wrong of a question which he must decide is NOT SO CLEAR. There are ALWAYS two sides to a question. Besides, it means so little to each INDIVIDUAL of the great general public. Human selfishness is cunning and needs no sophister. But if the representative hesitates, the tempter whispers: "Don't be a fool. Everybody is doing it. We are going to win anyway. Why remain out in the cold."

But the system attracts to our law-making bodies men who have no such scruples; men who want to go there because they know that corporations like the Bay State Street Railway spend such sums. In addition to those who are overtaken by temptation and the temptation seekers, there are those who can be influenced by the indirect pressure of business, through interlocking directorates and business ramifications. BIG business nearly always stands or falls together. These three classes of legislators added together constitute a reliable majority of our law-making bodies.

Need we ask what is the remedy? Do we not know that it is useless to appeal to the conscience of those who control big business. We have no right to expect them to be better men than the average among us. Ninety per cent. of the great private fortunes have been made through the control of the law-making bodies. Is that a temptation we could reasonably expect the average man to put behind him? The managers of these corporations hear an unusually loud and THREATENING protest from the public. But what follows? They find themselves "hoist by their own petard." The vampires which they have nourished sting them. The aban-

Have a Hobby and Cultivate It

By ELBERT HUBBARD

EVERY man and woman should have a vocation and an avocation.

Your vocation is the thing you depend upon for your bread and butter and clothes and house rent.

Your avocation is your plaything, your rest, your recreation, your emergency brake, your psychic governor, your electric fuse that takes care of you when there is danger of a short circuit.

Your avocation brings into play another set of mental muscles and gives you fit preparation for the battle of life.

It supplies resiliency or resisting power, lends endurance, courage, faith and self-reliance.

The farmers' wives who go insane do so for lack of a fad, a hobby, a play-spell.

The business men who slip their trolleys and the specialists who go bug wouldn't if they had a hobby and galloped it hard and fast an hour a day.

If your work is indoors get a hobby that takes you out. If your work is head-work get a fad that makes you use your hands and feet.

If nothing else, be a fight fan or a baseball fiend.

These things will inspire you to get a medicine ball and use it, or an indoor baseball and pull the household—including your wife and the children, grandpa and the hired girl—into the game.

When Edmund Burke was in his early twenties he experienced a great flaring up of intellect tapping a big reservoir of power. And when the mood was on he utilized the Cosmic Current, instead of grounding it, and wrote an immortal book.

This book is known to us as "Burke on the Sublime."

The joker here gets his chance and comes in with "The Sublime and the Ridiculous."

And there is no doubt that people who reach the sublime often appear ridiculous to those who don't or can't.

The enthusiast supplies mirth for the onlookers. But the enthusiast is the man who eliminates and finds rest for his convolutions.

Only this—be sure to enthuse concerning more than one thing. A good golf enthusiast always enthuses over his business—the pendulum swings out as far in one direction as in the other.

The business man who loves roses will make a success of both business and roses, and will never have nervous prostration.

Men are to be judged by their avocation rather than by their vocation.

Your vocation may be a thing that fate compels you to do, but your avocation you choose for yourself. You are what you are on account of the way you spend your leisure time: This is the you.

Elihu Burritt was a blacksmith all day, but in the evening he was something else. Robert Collyer the same.

The question is: How do you fill in the chinks of the day? What do you do Saturday afternoons, Sundays and each evening from seven to nine?

Macaulay, doing all his writing on stolen time, is a type not infrequent among extraordinary men. They were great on account of their hobbies.

So the moral is, get a fad, and if your boy or girl has a hobby, encourage it.

A hobby is a healthful play at the worst, and undying fame at the best.

More Truth Than Poetry

Life

Willie Dearboy had some marbles,
purchased by a wealthy dad;
Not a marble in his pocket, little
Johnnie Dugan had.
When the game was done that evening, just as night began to fall,
Willie hadn't any marbles; Johnnie
Dugan had them all.
Though in this enlightened country
all our chances are the same,
There is rather an advantage to the one who knows the game.

When the Doc Thought Too Far Ahead

WHEN Bryan went to Washington there dawned within his dome
The thought that he could nicely place the Democrats back home.
And every lad that had a bunch of votes that he could poll
Was soon deriving yearly coin from Uncle Samuel's roll.
"'Tis thus I'll win their favor," said the Doc, with crafty glee,
"And when I want a bigger job they all will vote for me."

BUT lo! when came election day and Bryan's need was great
For votes to help him clamp his grip upon the old home State,
The boys that had control of them were scattered far and wide
About the land and on the isles across the rolling tide,
And those the Doc had failed to fix were there with glad eclat
To turn Nebraska over to another Democrat.

WHICH proves that when you put a gang of boosters on the rolls
It's wiser to so place them that they're handy to the polls.
Which also shows that though for craft the Doc is widely known,
That even such a fox as he can sometimes pull a bone.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Calls Smoking Woman Menace to Posterity

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Copyright, 1915, Star Company.

EVERYWHERE the smoking woman is in evidence. She is a fungus growth on the tree of time.

In Burma she smokes a cigar as large as her wrist, and very ugly is the picture she makes, albeit she is a pretty woman as a rule.

The people of Japan and Java are undersized, and in both countries little children of six are seen smoking cigarettes.

One cannot help associating the two things—the habit and the stature.

In America a wife and mother died last year leaving a little child of three weeks. The mother longed to live—prayed for life; but blood-poisoning set in, and she died. She was an intensely nervous woman and an incessant smoker of cigarettes.

When maternity came and the extra demand was made upon her vitality she was not able to meet the demand.

She was bankrupt in vital force.

A thousand cases can be cited, no doubt, of other young mothers who have died—women who did not smoke. Yet that does not prove the cigarette guiltless of having caused the death of this woman. Her nervous type and anaemic condition made her an easy victim.

A woman of talent believes it is her great mental endowments which sends her once a year to a sanitarium for repairs.

But some of her friends and her nurses believe the cigarette habit to be the main cause. She smokes feverishly except when in the sanitarium.

There is no beauty in the picture of a woman with a cigarette between her lips.

There is no fascination in the smell of tobacco about her.

The man who smokes has not the same far-reaching influence on posterity as the woman who smokes. We may believe in one code of morals for both sexes, but we must admit that the father who smokes to excess for a year preceding the birth of his child is not the same menace to that child as the mother who indulges the habit during the same period of time.

Were the expectant mother to go into a nervous collapse, or were she to suffer from any of the disorders produced by nicotine poisoning, the result would be far more disastrous to the child than if the father suffered instead of the mother.

A child depends upon the mother's physical condition for its sustenance before it comes into life.

Therefore, the increasing number of women who smoke seem to menace posterity.

It is to be hoped the habit will pass away, as other bad fashions have passed.

It is not pretty, it is not "smart," it is not wholesome, it is not attractive.

In time it must go.

One Street Railway Pays Out $300,000 to Lawyers in Four Years

doned lobby which they have created, worries them, slyly building little fires underneath them and all around them. The temptation seekers in the Legislature strike at their honest rights by legislative proposals calculated to convince the well-behaved corporation managers that they cannot get even fair play without the protection of the mercenary soldiers of the lobby.

It is vain to tell these corporation managers that these are the evil genii of their own conspiring; that they are only being plagued by their former confederates in the business of exploiting the public.

THIS IS THE VERY SITUATION IN MASSACHUSETTS TODAY. Probably not in a generation have so many of the powerful public service corporations led such exemplary lives as our Massachusetts corporations have led during the last year, since the overthrow of the New Haven Railroad intrigue. Yet every well informed man in the Legislature knows that certain elements of the lobby are doing everything in their power to convince the managers of these private companies that this clean living spells "disaster" to their business enterprises.

It is a false system of government which depends upon unusual honesty in public servants and in men who have relations with our public servants. That is why representative government in this country has so egregiously failed.

The form of government which is controlled automatically by the enlightened selfishness of a majority of our people is the only remedy for the conditions which exist in our complex society. We must safeguard, buttress and supplement our representative government by providing a means of appealing to the judgment of the people on great measures, such as is provided by the initiative and the referendum.

The initiative would allow a specified number of citizens to submit a law to all the voters which a series of bad legislatures, in defiance of public opinion, had persistently refused to pass. Today there is absolutely no remedy for such a situation. Now legislators can go on defying public opinion forever, as they are doing in the matter of adopting the initiative and the referendum and in countless other instances.

By the referendum a law which the Legislature passed under the evil influences which we have discussed, the people could veto.

When we have these two great popular reforms, which will bring back our government again into the hands of the people where it once was when conditions were more simple, it will be useless for the special interests to seek the control of legislation even by such expenditures as was revealed in the Bay State Street Railway books. Then the gentlemen who go to the Legislature with high intentions may end their public careers with the same high purposes and the gentlemen who seek the Legislature for the pickings that are to be found there will seek it no longer. The log rolling of the big interests will cease.

Then public ownership will follow by easy transition, because the tremendous profits which come to the private managers of public service corporations, ALWAYS at the expense of the public and often at the expense of their own stockholders, will cease. When these gentlemen cease to have a great personal stake in private ownership, public ownership will cease to be bitterly opposed by false representations and will come without a struggle.
